SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE (AP) — Forty-three bombers and 15 fighters were missing tonight from the U.S. raid on Berlin, U.S. Air Headquarters announced.

2 New Drives Opened By Russians

LONDON (AP) — The Russians announced tonight the opening of two new drives against the Finnish front in Karelia above the shattered Mannerheim Line fortifications in the Vilpuri sector, with Red Army men forging ahead on both of the arms of land between Lakes Ladoga and Onega and the White Sea.

Air Board Bill Hit

OTTAWA (CP) — Howard C. Green, P.C., Vancouver South, said this afternoon in the Commons that a bill amending the Aeronautics Act was "ill-advised" in that it made a cabinet minister "dictator of civil aviation in Canada."

Menace to Crop

EDMONTON (CP) — Wheat stem sawfly—the No. 1 insect pest of prairie farmers—has started laying potential damage to millions of acres of wheat in the plains areas, Dominion government entomologists here reported today.

Russ Fighters Guide U.S. Planes

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC said a secret anti-German station reported late today that Russian fighters met U.S. bombers east of Berlin and escorted them to Soviet bases after the attack on the German capital.

Aussie Flier Killed

CALGARY (CP) — An Australian airman was killed when his machine crashed at 2 a.m. today four miles west and one mile north of No. 3 S.F.T.S., Currie, where this flier was stationed, it was announced by No. 4 Command. The crash is being investigated.

War Against Japan To Take Longer

VANCOUVER (CP) — The war against Japan in the Pacific will take much longer than the war against Germany, Australian Supply Minister John A. Beasley said in an interview here today.

Lovatt Wounded

LONDON (CP-Reuters) — Lord Lovatt, dashing commando leader, has been wounded in the Normandy fighting, it was learned today. He is in a hospital in England and was reported out of danger.

3 More Victorians Killed in Battle On Invasion Coast

Three more Victorians, one officer, two privates, are today listed among the killed in action while storming the beachheads of France.

They are Maj. Ken Osler, well-known Victoria athlete and former schoolmaster at Brentwood College; Pte. Maurice Beedham, who was on the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia here, and Pte. Herbert R. Cooney, whose mother lives in Saanich.

Maj. Osler's wife is the former Vera Sharland, daughter of Col. and Mrs. A. A. Sharland, who lived for some years at "Queenswood House," Cadboro Bay. There are two small daughters, the youngest born some months ago and never seen by her father.

Col. and Mrs. Sharland are now in England.

Born in England, Maj. Osler came to Vancouver Island with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Osler, in 1912. His parents for many years operated the Elk Hotel at Comox.

Maj. Osler was educated at Shawnigan Lake School and Oak Bay High School, later obtaining his science degree at University of Washington, preparatory to teaching at Brentwood. When war broke out he was at U.B.C. taking his doctorate in science. He was home on leave last year.

Sqdn. Ldr. Geoffrey Osler, R.C.A.F., stationed in Vancouver, and Thomas Osler, attending McGill University, are brothers.

Pte. Beedham, the son of Mrs. J. A. Beedham, Mount Edwards Apartments, 1002 Vancouver Street, was killed in action on the French invasion front June 8. Native son of Victoria, Pte. Beedham was educated at St. Christopher's and St. Michael's schools in Oak Bay, was employed in the Bank of Nova Scotia here at the outbreak of war. He joined the Canadian Scottish in June, 1940, proceeded overseas in September, 1941. Two sisters reside here, Miss Marjorie Beedham, at home, and Mrs. L. McCulloch, at Prospect Lake. A cousin, Col. C. A. Watson, is doctor in charge of Lady Astor's Hospital in England.

Pte. Cooney's mother, who has been advised of her son's death, lives on Belgrave Road, Saanich. A native son of Victoria, Cooney joined the Canadian Scottish Regiment a year and a half ago and has been overseas a year. His father is now serving overseas in Italy. An aunt, Mrs. E. L. Tait, resides at 454 Sturdee Street, Esquimalt.

Family Allowances Effective in 1945, Premier King Urges

OTTAWA (CP) — Family allowances proposed by the federal government would become effective July 1, 1945, and would range from $5 to $8 a month depending on the age of children, Prime Minister King revealed today in a resolution to the bill placed on the Commons votings and proceedings.

The resolution proposed that allowances be paid from that date for each child in Canada under 16 years of age on the following scale: $5 a month for each child less than six years old; $6 a month for each child of six or more but less than 10; $7 a month for each child of 10 or more but less than 13; $8 a month for each child of 13 years but less than 16 years old.

The resolution provides that the rates should be reduced by $1 a month in respect of the fifth child, by $2 in respect of the sixth and seventh and by $3 in respect of the eighth and additional children.

Quebec Youths Gave Fascist Salute, Says Tim Buck

MONTREAL (CP) — Tim Buck, national leader of the Labor Progressive Party, said here today after a group of youths prevented him from addressing a political meeting Tuesday night at Quebec, "the whole thing was highly organized and was a striking commentary on the situation there nowadays... however, we will hold other meetings there."

Mr. Buck said, in an interview, that the hall Tuesday night was "filled with children under 15 and youths under 20. They all repeatedly gave the Fascist salute, and from time to time went to the windows to salute from there, in the true Nazi way, a man sitting in a parked automobile across the street from the hall."

"The police, I must say, were quite courteous with everyone of us; however, a police inspector told me he was sorry, but could not do anything. Finally, we were advised to retire from the hall as, to use the police inspector's words, the situation might become dangerous."

Crowd Followed Buck, Police Say

QUEBEC (CP) — Sgt. Auguste Rochette of the Quebec city police said Tim Buck, national leader of the Labor-Progressive Party, had left the city Tuesday night after being followed for some distance through the streets by crowds who had been present at a political meeting called by the party.

Buck, along with other speakers scheduled to be heard, was escorted from a hall on downtown Villier Street by police after a group of youths had prevented the meeting from starting.

"Crowds followed Buck through the street and we picked him up in a radio car," Rochette said. He denied reports that Buck had been molested by the crowd.

The meeting had been called to nominate a Labor-Progressive candidate in Quebec East constituency to run in the next federal general election. Later Buck announced a meeting scheduled for Three Rivers, Que., Tuesday night had been cancelled.

The youths interrupted the meeting at the start by singing O Canada, Alouette, Vive la Canadienne and other French-Canadian songs.

Victorious Russians Drive On; Germans Pressing Finland

LONDON (CP) — Victorious Russian troops who occupied Finland's fortress seaport of Viipuri Tuesday drove on today toward the capital city of Helsinki, where the Germans were reported exerting pressure to keep their ally from suing for peace with Premier Stalin.

A BBC broadcast reported Russian troops "have advanced three miles beyond Viipuri."

The Finnish radio, which told of the Russian advance, urged all persons whose presence was not essential to evacuate Helsinki—approximately 135 airline miles west of Viipuri.

The Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter said the Germans were endeavoring to block formation of a Finnish "peace cabinet" which Finns asserted would be formed "very soon" as a result of the Russian successes. What steps the Germans would take to try to keep Finland in the war were uncertain. A Stockholm report said the Germans were threatening occupation of three Finnish ports along a 70-mile stretch at the head of the Gulf of Bothnia—Tornio, Kemi and Oulu—and the Aland Islands in the gulf between Sweden and Finland.

British Expand From Tilly Area In Bitter Fight

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE (AP) — The fall of Cherbourg appeared today to be a matter of hours.

U.S. troops are fighting 1,500 yards, less than a mile of the city's waterfront.

U.S. troops captured Acqueville and Teurtheville Hague on the western tip of Cherbourg peninsula.

Heavy fighting was reported in the Tilly-sur-Seulles area toward the eastern end of the Normandy front where British forces are operating.

Eighty German tanks have been destroyed by the Allies so far.

The Allied air forces Tuesday flew 6,000 sorties in "one of the most successful days of the campaign."

"Good progress has been made toward Cherbourg today," Supreme Headquarters said.

Other U.S. forces advanced northwest of Valognes, where U.S. forces were astride the road leading to Cherbourg.

(An NBC broadcast from Normandy said "our ground forces are moving into Cherbourg.")

Meanwhile British troops, fanning out from Tilly-sur-Seulles at the eastern end of the beachhead have captured Onchy, three miles to the southwest.

German Counterblows On Tilly Repulsed

Only patrol activity was reported elsewhere on the Normandy beachhead except in the Tilly area. The Germans launched three heavy counterattacks on the newly-taken British stronghold of Hotot, two miles south of Tilly.

The attacks were reported, but the situation in the village itself was obscure.

The Caen area, held by British and Canadian troops, farther to the east, was quiet.

In the Cherbourg sector, the power drive from the south hammered against Four du Roule, on a hill at Cherbourg's outskirts and within a mile of the docks, and Port Octeville, a little more than a mile to the west.

Cherbourg's great military port area, now exploding under German demolitions, lies only two miles behind Port Octeville.

The Germans were making a last ditch stand in these inner ring fortresses.

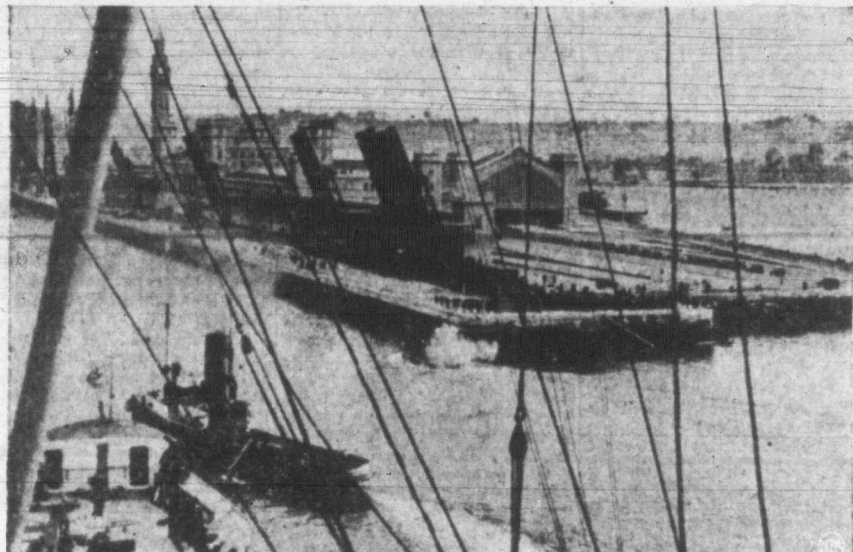

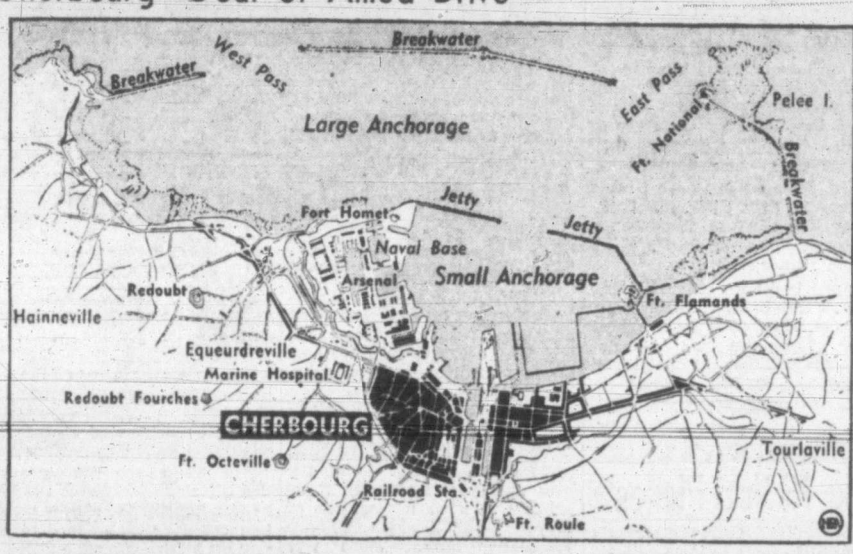

Heavy fighting was reported in the built-up suburban section of France's third greatest port.

The assault on the forts raced forward from St. Martin-le-Gard, four miles south of Cherbourg, and advance units on the evening flank drove to Acqueville, three to four miles west and slightly south of Cherbourg's city limits.

Gort du Roule, a major key to control of the besieged German stronghold, stands atop a 450-foot hill.

Smoke hung over Cherbourg as the trapped German defenders carried out hurried demolitions in the strategic harbor, now in plain view of the attacking U.S. troops coming out of the hills surrounding their objective.

Cherbourg—Goal of Allied Drive

Map above shows the great French port of Cherbourg at the end of the Normandy peninsula. Possession of it by the Allies means access to docking facilities that, in peacetime, accommodated the largest luxury liners, such as the Normandie, and, in wartime, can accommodate the largest warships and transports. Napoleon was the first to develop Cherbourg as a great naval station, spending millions of dollars on extensive fortifications and improvements. The military area has three main ship basins, carved out of solid rock, shipyards, drydocks, arsenals, supply warehouses and other equipment. Photo below shows one of the docks.

To Develop B.C. Hydro Power For People of Province—Hart

Premier John Hart today said his government is determined to develop B.C. hydro-electric power for the people, but that no announcement of specific action can yet be made.

He was commenting on a statement made by Mayor M. S. Stephens of Courtenay, who said the Premier told him the government plans to float bonds to purchase the B.C. Electric and to provide $25,000,000 for development of hydro-electric power by installing dams and equipment.

The Premier today said there have been conferences and discussions in connection with the proposed acquisition of the B.C. Electric, but that there has been no material change in the situation since his announcement in the House last session.

"The government's determination to develop the potential water power of the province for the people already has been expressed," Mr. Hart said. "No specific program can be laid down, however, until the rural electrification committee, established to investigate the feasibility of such a scheme, has submitted its final report, together with its findings."

The government realizes the importance of the proposal, Mr. Hart said, and is giving it the careful study and investigation so that it will be in possession of all the facts before taking any definite action.

Norwegians Recognize De Gaulle Committee

LONDON (CP) — The Norwegian government today announced recognition of Gen. de Gaulle's Committee of National Liberation as "the body qualified to conduct and lead the French war effort within the framework of inter-Allied co-operation, and also preserve and protect all French interests."

Meanwhile, the London Daily Star predicted that after Cherbourg has been captured Britain and the U.S. will recognize Gen. de Gaulle's organization as the French provisional government.

Wonderful At Beachhead

From David Spencer Ltd. came a cheque for $100 to the Scottish Comforts Fund today, bringing total subscriptions to $439.50.

A letter received from the Normandy beachhead this morning tells of Victoria boys battling in the spearhead of the invasion—the same boys who will receive cigarettes and comforts purchased with the money Victorians donate to this fund. This letter was written by an engineer who went ashore on the coast of France near a group of Victoria soldiers.

"All Canadians would be proud to see their boys, especially the infantry," he says. "Victoria infantry men have distinguished themselves. They have been simply wonderful."

Today's subscriptions to the Scottish Comforts Fund are: David Spencer Ltd. $100.00 Mrs. D. Dolg 3.00 Archdeacon and Mrs. H. A. Collison 2.00 Mrs. George Fawcett 2.00 Previously reported $332.50 Subscriptions should be addressed to Kay McIntyre, Times editorial, who is acting as secretary-treasurer.

'Decisive Battle In Pacific Coming'—Nimitz

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — U.S. carrier planes attacked a strong Japanese fleet including aircraft carriers and battleships midway between Luzon and Saipan before dusk Monday in the first day of action which Admiral Chester W. Nimitz hopes may develop into a decisive naval battle, the Pacific Fleet commander's communique announced today.

"Enemy losses and our own losses have not yet been assessed," the bulletin said.

With tonightfall the U.S. aerial attack on the enemy ships presumably had to be broken off.

Nimitz promised: "Additional details will be made known as soon as they become available."

The communique's mention of enemy losses to be assessed could mean U.S. carrier bombers scored hits on the powerful Jap fleet.

Reconnaissance planes from carriers of the 5th Fleet, under command of Admiral Raymond A. Spruance, sighted Monday afternoon the powerful Japanese force which Admiral Nimitz in a press conference Tuesday said might include the entire Jap battle fleet.

U.S. carrier bombers and fighters immediately were ordered to attack.

The planes made contact before dusk in the first opportunity for an American carrier attack on a Japanese fleet force since the battle of Santa Cruz in October, 1942.

U.S. Fleet Protects Forces On Saipan

Whether continuing action would develop into a decisive fleet test depended Monday nightfall on the manoeuvring of the opposing armadas.

The U.S. fleet does not have complete freedom of manoeuvre, because it has an obligation to protect the amphibious force and ground troops invading Saipan in the Marianas.

The Japanese fleet force is trying mightily to draw the U.S. force deep into the vast ocean space between the Marianas and the Philippines.

The scene of the U.S. carrier planes' blow on the enemy ships was about in the middle of the 1,500-mile ocean sweep between the Marianas and the Philippines.

Reporting on the Saipan ground fighting, Nimitz said U.S. marines and army troops have made advances pushing northward on the island east coast on Magicienne Bay.

U.S. troops now control virtually all the southern third of the island, with supplies and ammunition piling onto the beachheads.

American troops made progress against an enemy strongpoint at Nafutan point, where the Japanese are cut off in a pocket at the extreme southeastern corner of the island.

Says Grievances Won Sask. for C.C.F.

OTTAWA (CP) — Agriculture Minister Gardiner in a statement on the C.C.F. victory in the Saskatchewan election, said on his return to Ottawa today that the successful party "deserve congratulations upon the thoroughness with which they organized to take advantage of every grievance which the depression before the war and prosecution of the war presented."

"Farmers voted much as expected excepting for the fact that some who had grievances a year or two ago but are more satisfied now did not vote because they are not yet convinced of what the future has in store and they are not Socialists," he said.

Beachhead Troops Most Curious About Nazi Buzz Bombs

By CHARLES BRUCE

SOMEWHERE IN NORMANDY (CP) — First thing the bridgehead soldier says when he sees a new face from across the Channel is "what about these buzz bombs?"

When I landed for a conference with Ross Munro and William Stewart, Canadian Press war correspondents with the Canadian troops, that was the subject of interest from work parties on the beach to officers of a forward brigade.

Many have wives and close friends back in the area where the pilotless planes or flying bombs are thumping down, and they show the same anxiety as does the friend or relative back home for the man at the front.

BUSY SCENES
The most amazing thing about the Normandy coast now is the fact that it is a crowded roadstead as far as one can see along the invasion strip. For anyone who has been brought up around saltwater ports, it is even more impressive than for an inlander, who just sees lots of ships without perhaps realizing the amount of manpower, oil, coal, labor, skill and seamanship required to put them there and the hundreds of thousands of tons of cargo they are bringing to back up the front.

Along the beach where I came ashore 12 days after the Canadians had stormed through the defenses, the scene is one of industry rather than war.

There had been bitter fighting around here in the first few days, but the signs of it were almost gone. From the fluid front not far away came the occasional crump of a mortar.

Canadian A-A's Bag 15 Nazi Planes

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE (CP) — A Canadian light anti-aircraft unit, helping protect the Normandy beachhead from enemy raiders, has a confirmed score of 15 enemy planes destroyed since D-Day.

Most of the firing has been at dawn and dusk when enemy fighter-bombers come nipping over the beachhead trying to strafe and bomb communication lines, supply dumps and troop positions. But there is such a concentration of ack-ack guns here that this is becoming a highly unprofitable task for the Germans.

Anti-aircraft guns are literally packed into the area and there is no barrage in the world like this one in which the Canadians are doing their full share of shooting. One battery set a record by knocking down five planes in one night. Other batteries have scored five-plane kills, but only in several days.

Sharing in the destruction have been batteries from Brantford and Kingston, Ont. Maj. B. F. Gossage commanded the Brantford battery, with A. M. Appleby of Duncan, B.C., as battery captain.

U.S. Senator Urges Lytleton Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Lucas (Dem.-Ill.) told the United States Senate today that Capt. Oliver Lytleton, British Minister of Production, had uttered "a slur against the United States" in a London speech and that his resignation should be demanded.

Lucas' assertion on the Senate floor came after Secretary of State Hull Tuesday night sharply rebutted Lytleton's assertion that American lend-lease aid to Britain had forced Japan into attacking the United States and after Lytleton himself, earlier in the day, had addressed a personal apology to the House of Commons for his remark.

"When I read that statement in the press," Lucas told his colleagues, "I was shocked and disappointed that a man so high among Allied officials could make such a statement."

"Regardless of any correction made later, those original words will cling in the minds of the American people as the most incredible and stupefying statement yet made by a high Allied official during this war."

Imprisoned Druggist Barred From Practice

VANCOUVER (CP) — Rights of Charles Willard Davis of New Westminster to practice pharmacy in British Columbia were removed by the Council of the British Columbia Pharmaceutical Association at its meeting here Tuesday.

Davis is serving a six-year prison term after being convicted last fall on a charge of unlawful possession of morphine and cocaine which he obtained from military supplies while serving as staff sergeant dispenser at Vancouver military barracks.

3 Hurt As Car Overturns After Collision

Seventeen-year-old Yvonne Dubois, 1437 Vining Street, suffered severe bruises and possible rib fractures when a car, shown above, driven by her father, Paul G. Dubois, and another car driven by F. W. Anderson, 3435 Cook, collided at Haultain and Cook Streets at 6.15 Tuesday night. Mrs. Dubois, the girl's mother, suffered shock and bruises. Both were removed to Royal Jubilee Hospital while the father was taken to Victoria Military Hospital. Both cars were considerably damaged. Anderson was not hurt.

All Political Parties Agreed On Reconstruction Measures

OTTAWA (CP) — All parties in the House of Commons went on record Tuesday in favor of the creation of a department of government to handle postwar reconstruction.

As Canadian soldiers battled in the first phases of the invasion of Europe, Prime Minister King put forward a bill to set up the new agency and pictured it as another step in a program of postwar planning which has been proceeding almost since war started.

While all groups in the House endorsed the idea of having a department, spokesmen for the C.C.F. and Social Credit groups were skeptical about whether the government program would meet the need. M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, complained the department would be merely a co-ordinating agency and would not take control of Canadian resources and plan their development.

Walter Kuhl, S.C. Jasper-Edson, Alta., objected to postwar emphasis on employment, and thought with modern machinery there should be more unemployment, or leisure. Fewer people working a four-hour day could provide all with incomes equivalent to $4,000 a year if appropriate financial steps were taken.

The general theme was that after the war the same degree of full employment and income should be maintained as in war. For the accomplishment of this purpose, Mr. King relied on a greater degree of economic collaboration between nations and greater co-operation between governments in Canada.

EMERGENCY POWERS

There were two reasons, he said, why it had been possible to accomplish things in war that had not been accomplished in peace. All the United Nations worked to a common objective in wartime, and within Canada the federal government under emergency powers was able to carry out its policies, whereas in peacetime it frequently had to obtain consent of the provincial governments.

In peacetime instead of working for the expansion of trade, countries too often tried to provide prosperity for their own people by taking away employment from peoples of other countries.

Prosperity was not something which one nation could enjoy by itself. It had to be shared. "As the nations got this larger conception they came closer to ensuring the fullest possible employment of their people."

During the war the federal government had been able to act for the whole of Canada in war measures.

"I hope and believe," he said, "that as a result of what has happened during the war, the co-operation which the federal government has had in very large measure from the provincial governments, and in consequence of the conferences still to be held between the provinces and ourselves, we shall work out some means whereby we can, in the period after the war, secure still greater effort."

NO MONEY DIFFICULTY

Mr. King said he contemplated no difficulty in obtaining the money which will be needed to carry out postwar reconstruction programs, and he expressed the hope the money could be obtained without increasing taxation or the public debt.

Munitions Minister Howe told the Commons that unless the Allies win a quick and overpower-

Jap Forces Drive Across Lu River

CHUNGKING (AP) — Japanese forces have driven across the Lu River and are within 65 miles of strategic Hengyang, approximately 100 airline miles southwest of the fallen Hunan province capital of Changsha, the Chinese High Command announced today.

Hengyang is situated on the Ssang River at the junction of the Canton-Hankow and Hunan-Kwangsi railways. Should it fall, the Japanese would have taken a long step toward splitting China in half, establishing an overland trunk railway, neutralizing a number of Allied air bases and putting themselves in better position to oppose possible Allied landings on the China coast.

$250,000 Flood Fund

EDMONTON (CP) — While residents, forced out of the flooded districts along the Pembina and Paddle rivers, 65 miles northwest of Edmonton, today were taking stock of their losses Minister of Public Works W. A. Fallow announced he is asking the Alberta government to pass immediately a special warrant for $250,000 to cope with the flood situation.

Big Enemy Carrier Damaged at Genoa

ROME (AP) — Medium bombers of the 1st Tactical Air Force severely damaged a 20,000-ton enemy aircraft carrier in the harbor of Genoa Tuesday, it was announced today.

The ship was believed to be the previously damaged Italian carrier Regola, which was being refitted in the harbor.

Chiang Gives Banquet In Honor of Wallace

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING (AP) — A general system of collective security, backed if necessary by an adequate international force, was urged by President Chiang Kai-shek Wednesday night at a state banquet given by him and Mme. Chiang in honor of Vice-President Wallace of the United States.

Assuring Mr. Wallace China wishes to live in good neighborliness, harmony and peace with all nations, the generalissimo said: "We respect the integrity and independence of every nation. We dream no dreams of domination. We have no territorial ambitions."

The state banquet at the presidential villa followed a tour in which Wallace met "young China," rubbing shoulders with cheering students whom he told to "work for the day when all the people of China can read and write."

13 Canadians Shot By Nazi Captors

LONDON (AP) — The London Daily Mirror's war correspondent said in a dispatch from France today that 13 Canadian prisoners had been lined up and shot by the Germans in a French village now in Allied hands.

The correspondent, George McCarthy, said the men had died with the photographs of "their loved ones — their wives, sweethearts or children" — clinched in their hands and that it was clear the Canadians had "been lined up to die."

He said the bodies were discovered in the grounds of a chateau in the village of Audrieu, south of the Bayeux-Caen railway line.

"A French woman who lived in the chateau during the German occupation confirms the news that the Canadians were marched out and shot," he wrote. "British troops who followed the Canadians into the area heard of the shooting from a Frenchman who testified that altogether 25 prisoners of war were shot by the Germans. No trace has been found of the remaining 12."

Allies Take Nijp In Northern Burma

KANDY, Ceylon (CP) — Allied troops advancing from captured Tianguap in northern Burma, have captured the village of Nijp, six miles to the south, and have inflicted severe casualties on the retreating Japanese, a communiqué from Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters announced today.

The fall of Tianguap, 40 miles north of the besieged Japanese stronghold of Myittha, was announced by the Allies Tuesday after six weeks of heavy fighting.

Troops participating in the advance on Nijp were identified as Gurkhas and Kachin levies.

Ask $10,000,000 For Community Art

OTTAWA (CP) — Appropriation of $10,000,000 by the federal government for assistance in establishing community cultural and art centres was urged before the Commons reconstruction committee today.

The proposal was advanced in a brief prepared for presentation to the committee by representatives of 16 national associations of artists, authors, musicians, architects and players.

"In no country is less consideration given to the arts than in Canada," the brief said.

The organizations suggested establishment of a government department for supervision of all cultural activities and extension of such national services as the National Art Gallery, National Film Board and Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

In a plan for community centres, the brief proposed that grants be made available from a government $10,000,000 appropriation on condition that the community and province contribute an amount equal to the Dominion grant.

For larger centres the plan calls for 25 centres at a cost of about $250,000 each to include an art gallery, library and auditorium.

Preliminary Report On Stalag Massacre

LONDON (CP) — Foreign Secretary Eden announced in the House of Commons today that a preliminary report on the fatal shooting by the Germans of 50 Allied air officers, including six Canadians, had been received from the German government.

The Foreign Secretary said the British government was consulting the Dominions and hoped to be able to make a statement shortly.

The shooting was done after a mass escape from a German prison camp, Stalag Luft 111.

Allies Capture Rocket Gun Sites

AT AN R.A.F. BASE SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP-Reuters) — Invading Allied armies have captured two of the sites in France from which the Germans had been projecting their much vaunted pilotless aircraft across the Channel to Britain.

The sites were captured intact, according to Wing Commander R. P. Beaumont, in charge of this section composed of two "tempest" squadrons responsible for bringing down many of these flying bombs since Adolf Hitler first brought them into play.

Nazi Bodies in Sea

ISTANBUL (AP) — "Hundreds" of bodies of German soldiers, apparently from troop transports sunk by the Russians in the Black Sea, are drifting into the Bosphorus, it was reported today.

BRITAIN will not find itself with an untrained generation as the result of the war. When men and women join the forces they are taught not only how to handle their particular weapons, how to drive a tank or pilot a plane, repair a balloon or man a boat, they can also learn a trade or profession while they train to fight... To see that the men in the Mediterranean area get those eagerly-awaited cigarettes remember that starting last Monday the new scheme to speed up shipments calls for ordering 300 size packages. They can be more conveniently handled by troops on the move than the 1,000 size packages. The labels are flown overseas by airmail when orders are placed and orders are filled from an overseas reserve depot.

Lytleton Apologizes to Commons

LONDON (AP) — In a personal apology to the House of Commons, Rt. Hon. Oliver Lytleton, Minister of War Production, disclaimed today any intention of saying in a speech Tuesday that United States lend-lease aid to Britain had forced Japan into attacking Pearl Harbor because, he declared, such a statement was "manifestly untrue."

Capt. Lytleton explained that in an interpolation in a speech which he delivered before the American Chamber of Commerce he had merely tried to make clear Britain's gratitude for aid given her by the United States before the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

He concluded: "I want to make it quite clear that I do not complain of being misreported and that any misunderstanding is entirely my own fault."

"I ask the House to believe that the fault was one of expression and not of intention, and I hope that this apology will undo any harm which the original words may have caused here or in the United States."

Eric Hawkins of the New York Herald Tribune and Virgil Pinkley of the United Press, the only U.S. press representatives at the luncheon, both quoted Capt. Lytleton as saying in an interpolated aside that "it is a travesty of history to say that America was forced into the war."

This aside provoked prompt reaction both in Britain and the United States and a denial from Cordell Hull, U.S. Secretary of State.

The version of the interpolation which these newspapers cited as having caused a misunderstanding.

Why DO CANADIANS Like THE BANK OF MONTREAL?

It is not by chance that the Bank has a million satisfied depositors, besides thousands of other friends who use its services in various ways. There are substantial reasons, chief of which, we believe, are as follows:

First, Confidence. Canadians of every occupation—farmers, labourers, mechanics, office workers, home workers, business managers and clerks, corporation executives, professional men and women—believe in the Bank, because of its history and traditions, its strength and its known service to the nation.

Second, Experience. These Canadians know, by personal experience in dealings with the Bank, they can rely on it—come good times or bad, peace or war—for the kind of banking service they need.

Third, Modern Methods. Due to our modern methods, a spirit of helpfulness, and the practical efficiency of our staff, customers find it pleasant to transact business at the Bank, whether it be at the Head Office, one of our large city branches, or the smallest branch in the smallest town.

If you are not a customer of the Bank, you are invited to become one.

New Temper, Spirit Arise In Britain Since D-Day Says Laski; Yanks Proud

By HAROLD J. LASKI

LONDON (Exclusive Cable)—D-Day was a superb surprise. Since June 6 there has been in every person in Britain a new temper and spirit. Everyone knows there are still grave dangers to overcome and knows they will be overcome. Our feet are on the road to Berlin and nothing will turn us back from that road.

Nothing these few days since D-day has impressed me so much as two small experiences. First was a meeting with a French friend, a man of the left who escaped from Paris late in 1940. He has suffered much. The Nazis executed his father-in-law as a hostage; his house was bombed in a British attack; his son is somewhere in the Maquis (mountain brush), whether alive or dead he does not know. But when I met him June 6 he was a radiant being. A United Nations army was in France. The long agony of waiting and of fear was entering the last phase.

DEEPLY MOVED

If a Canadian or American could have seen him at that moment, eyes blazing and face alight with a glow seeming to dim even the sun, I think he would have felt it had been worth waiting for the moment. He was too moved to speak coherent sentences, could only gasp the names Churchill, Roosevelt, Eisenhower, and then, with a passion I do not know how to reproduce: "Enfin la France est encore chez elle!" (at last France is herself again!)

He is only one of millions who had waited to see the dawn of this hour of liberation. He has had dark days, when it seemed as though life was nothing but a stream of ugly blackness. But now a United Nations army was on French soil. He whispered the names of villages between Caen and Bayeux as though merely mention them was to chant a litany. War is an ugly, evil thing and I doubt whether it achieves a benefit proportionate to the agony it causes. Yet I know from those few minutes with my friend that it can bring moments of joy so exquisite that no poet is ever able to put into words the intensity of their splendor. "Enfin la France est encore chez elle!" are words which will stay in my memory while life lasts; I think they are noble words.

AMERICANS PROUD

The second experience was with a group of American soldiers to whom I was giving a lecture on D-day plus three. There must have been 80 of them and I found they came from 40 of the 48 states. I began the lecture with a banal remark on the sense of spiritual debt an Englishman feels to Americans who had come 3,000 miles and more to fight in a conflict in the making of which their responsibility was so small. When I was done, the colonel in charge stood up and said simply: "We are proud that you think us welcome in this fight. There is no true American heart that is not beating with yours." It is not very easy to convey to people across the ocean what the words meant. For nearly five years we have waited, watching our cities blitzed, meeting our wounded and measuring the magnitude of the defeats we have suffered. To feel, after all this, that the tide has turned, that in men, machines and productive capacity the advantage is with us, and that we stand, with all our blunders, mistakes and follies, for the greatest of all causes, the liberation everywhere of the common man—I think this is a moment in history that none of us who have experienced it will forget.

ment in history that none of us who have experienced it will forget.

SPIRITUAL COLUMB

I felt, as I looked on these men from Virginia, Illinois and New York, that it was somehow not upon ordinary Americans I was looking, but on Thomas Jefferson, Lincoln, Franklin Roosevelt, men who to me make that American tradition which in magic fashion has built the idea of freedom into a spiritual column of the world.

I do not suppose for a moment that the fight on which we have now entered will be easy. I think it will call for all the energy and determination we have to bring it to a victorious conclusion. We are fighting the dark forces of history, and there are methods open to them which we cannot use. There are going to be days of suffering and sorrow before we reach our goal. Lives that have hardly begun to experience the beauty of living are going to be sacrificed by the thousand; cities old and beautiful will be reduced to rubble; a countryside once smiling with plenty will be blackened by the scars of war before the goal is reached. There will be days when we catch at our hearts because someone has been lost whom we held dear. There will be hopes we cannot achieve, dreams we fail to fulfill.

But we are going to break into pieces a system that sought to enslave the spirit of man. We are going to destroy a tyranny which has hated freedom. That, after all, will mean that we are not altogether failing in our hopes. That gives us the right to go on believing in our dreams.

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION
TORONTO—It seems highly improbable that any national campaign has received a greater degree of support among the rank and file public than the current campaign to fight down a rising venereal disease rate.

The same Canadian public which a year ago gave a 90 per cent vote through the Gallup Poll in favor of free treatment for V.D. sufferers, and almost as big a majority in favor of compulsory pre-marital physical examinations for everyone, today confirm their approval of a wide-open campaign by voting, with one of the biggest majorities ever recorded in Gallup surveys, for forced treatment of this disease for all sufferers, and a course of lectures on the subject in all senior classes in Canadian High Schools.

The huge majorities favoring these two propositions once again indicate little desire on the part of the general public for "hushing up" this problem.

First issue in the Gallup Poll "referendum" was worded like this: "At the present time, the government is carrying on a widespread campaign against venereal disease. Do you think it would be a good idea or not to give lectures to senior high school students on this subject?"

From all across Canada came a decision "Yes": Good idea, 93 per cent; poor idea, 4 per cent; undecided, 3 per cent.

cent. In Quebec, the unprecedented majority of 97 per cent was found to favor the teaching of this subject to senior High School students. Men and women, rich and poor, city dweller and farmer, all showed tremendous majorities in support of a proposal which, a few decades ago, would have been considered revolutionary.

Callup reporters then asked this question of representative citizens: "Do you think that anyone having a venereal disease should be forced by law to take treatment free of charge until cured, or do you think this should be left for the person to decide?"

Here is one issue on which the Canadian public definitely does not support individual enterprise, as the following table shows: Should force treatment, 94 per cent; leave to individual, 4 per cent; undecided, 2 per cent.

Here again, majorities in all groups of the population were overwhelmingly in favor. Just about a year ago, the Institute, in a similar Canadian survey, measured the public's attitude towards establishing of free clinics, as part of a widespread campaign, and received a 90 per cent "Yes" vote. Suggestion of compulsory pre-marital examination and blood test was approved by 84 per cent of the population. (World Copyright Reserved)

HITLER'S RUSSIAN VENTURE

EARLY ON A SUNDAY MORNING three years ago—June 22, 1941, to be exact—Adolf Hitler sent his legions across the frontiers of the Soviet Union. No visible or other preliminaries had foreshadowed the attack. So far as the world knew, Russo-German relations were still based on economic accommodation, of advantage to the Reich. It must remain for the historian to try to explain what the Fuehrer really expected to gain in the long run by disregarding one of the fundamental warnings he himself had set down in "Mein Kampf".

Hitler had nevertheless opened his second front—against, or so it is often said, the better judgment of his military commanders. How he and they feel about it on the eve of the third anniversary of the initial blow may well be left to the imagination. Millions of Germans no doubt are trying to reconcile the condition in which the Wehrmacht finds itself at this stage of the conflict with the Fuehrer's description of Russia's military machine, for example, on Oct. 3, 1941. On that day he told a screaming mob in Berlin's famous Sportplatz that Soviet armies were so soundly defeated they would never rise again.

On several occasions during the last three years, of course, Russia's fighting men have extricated themselves from circumstances which puzzled military orthodoxy. There were times—on the days when the fall of Moscow looked like a certainty down to the miracle of Stalingrad—when disaster seemed inescapable. But the world had yet to learn how Marshal Stalin had prepared for the attack he realized was one day inevitable if the Fuehrer intended to stick to the basic plan of campaign for world domination he had prescribed in "Mein Kampf".

So the first two years of the Russo-German campaign passed. The supposedly invincible Wehrmacht never recovered from the debacle it suffered at the great steel city on the Volga. For five days last July the crack divisions of Field Marshal von Manstein battered at the Kursk salient for yet another attempt to drive eastward. It failed. We know the rest. And the world now salutes the armies and the peoples of the Soviet Union as they enter the fourth year of their battle against the Fascist brutes—surely nearing its victorious climax.

CONFIDENCE FOR POSTWAR

THE ADDRESS OF HON. C. D. HOWE, Minister of Munitions and Supply, to the convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in Toronto, should help to restore full confidence in the business future for those industries which have been looking forward with some uncertainty to the period of transition from war to peace.

Canada, as Mr. Howe reminded the manufacturers, must take part in the rebuilding of war devastated Europe. This country is already being called on to furnish replacements for transportation, public utilities and farm implements. It is the forecast of the government's economists—that such demands will grow and will probably absorb any surplus productive capacities we have to offer. There will also be the demands from across the Pacific for reconstruction materials, as well as foodstuffs.

The road of opportunity is also opened to our industrialists through the adaptation of the inventions of war years to postwar purposes. The government has taken a lead in this, with arrangements already under way to develop the gas turbine which is a feature of jet propulsion for airplanes. The gas turbine promises to rank in importance with the steam engine and the internal combustion engine. The government, also, is carrying out development work on civilian uses for radar as a contribution toward transportation by air.

The war has speeded the exploration and development of natural resources which will enrich our stock pile of materials for peacetime processing. Canada in the last four years has become a producer of important new base metals such as mercury, tungsten, molybdenum and chrome. When shortages developed, our mining engineers were able to produce these in required quantity and out of Canadian soil. Now we have them for our future nonwar production. Also, as Mr. Howe reminded the manufacturers, there is oil. We have always been short of oil, producing only about 18 per cent of our requirements. Under the stresses of recent years, however, a very important oil field has been opened in the Northwest Territories and plans are being laid for a commercial carrier pipeline to tidewater.

Altogether, there will be no shortage of profitable fields for our industrialists to explore and cultivate. We have the personnel experienced in organizing for production and skilled in mechanical techniques. Over some other countries we have the advantage of a wide range of raw materials in abundant supply. Finally, some of the manufacturers probably found their most satisfactory message of encouragement in Mr. Howe's reference to the fear expressed by some that controllers in his department would not relinquish their powers as soon as feasible. He labeled these fears as "groundless."

THE NAVAL SHOWDOWN?

FOR SEVERAL MONTHS PAST OUR neighbor's admirals have been spoiling for a real showdown fight with the Japanese navy. They are still smarting under the memory of Pearl Harbor; they are not likely to forget it in a hurry. The "son of heaven" in Tokyo and his bombastic war lords know this. But they also know what happened at Midway; this was a foretaste of the American rod in pickle. And while we are writing this the news from the Pacific, brief and speculative though it is, brings tidings suggestive that the main bulk of the opposing navies already are trading major blows. Naturally enough Admiral Nimitz is keeping his own counsel for the time being. The world waits patiently and hopefully.

Tokyo, however, is following traditional procedure. A Japanese spokesman is quoted in a Berlin broadcast as saying that Nippon's air and naval forces "have successfully engaged an American fleet." This type of "news" has preceded other Allied successes in the Pacific. But it differs in important particulars from the tone and content of a domestic broadcast beamed to the Japanese people. In this communique from imperial headquarters they are told "we have suffered considerable losses of ships and planes." It is highly probable that this warning to the home folk is an underestimate of what may follow from the headquarters of Admiral Nimitz. His statement this morning that "possibly the entire Japanese fleet" has entered the area—some where between the Philippines and the Marianas—obviously is based on aerial observation from United States planes.

A great Allied naval victory in the Pacific at this stage would be particularly opportune, not only for its promise of an early settlement for Pearl Harbor and the rest, but also because it would offset to a very considerable extent the success of the Japanese at Changsha and all that implies for sorely-pressed China. Further reports from Admiral Nimitz, therefore, will be eagerly awaited by the peoples of all the United Nations.

AN ECHO OF THE PAST

NO DOUBT BECAUSE OF THE strange and almost unreal circumstances surrounding the event, the advent of Signor Ivanhoe Bonomi as the head of Italy's first anti-Fascist ministry since the March on Rome has produced little or no reference to his political history. Nor need the absence of such comment be regarded as either significant or important. It is nevertheless worth recalling that this is not the first time this Italian Liberal has occupied the high position of state—he has just assumed—with the good wishes of his followers and the principal Allied powers. He was Premier at the time of the death of Pope Benedict XV in January, 1922, only to meet overwhelming defeat almost immediately afterward.

Those were the days when anti-clerical temper still flared up occasionally in Parliament as well as among large sections of the Italian people—a condition which ended, only with Mussolini's settlement of the "Roman Question" with the signing of the Lateran treaty in 1929. Twenty-two years ago last January, however, Premier Bonomi ordered the flags of public buildings lowered at half-mast in commemoration of the passing of Benedict. On the same afternoon he went before Parliament and the first question brought up by an anti-clerical deputy was the attitude of the government toward the death of the Pontiff. Violent speeches followed and in less than an hour Bonomi was removed from office by an overwhelming vote—merely for showing respect for the Pope's memory, so to speak.

It is to be noted, incidentally, that Signor Bonomi is one of the only two pre-Fascist Premiers still alive. He spent two decades of dire poverty under Mussolini, making a living as best he could writing books for Fascist lawyers, who were too ignorant of the law to do the job themselves. The new Premier is 71 years old and, although reported to be hale and hearty, it is confidently expected the young and aggressive Palmiro Togliatti, with strong "leftish" leanings, will eventually become an important driving force in ministerial ranks. For the time being, at any rate, the Italian people have a government which represents all shades of anti-Fascist thought.

THEY WILL BE PAID BACK

HARD-PRESSED FOR THEIR MILITARY manpower, the Nazis have resorted to another breach of international law. The Herr Doktor Goebbels has invited German civilians to kill parachuting Allied flyers, and justified himself with some typical Nazi absurdity about Allied planes machine-gunning children—a dastardly practice in which German airmen engaged against undefended British towns on Sunday afternoons a few months ago. One unconfirmed report coming through Sweden said that it had started: that five parachuting Allied airmen had been killed. Berlin denies out the figure to one, the "lynching" of an airman after churchgoers had been strafed, according to a Nazi radio announcement. True or not, it makes little difference.

This, like many another pipedream of the Nazi propaganda minister, may backfire. The invasion will certainly not stop air activity over Germany proper. But the instance referred to has again outraged civilization with another proof of Hitler's and Nazi brutality. We shall not take the sort of counter-measures that have made the so-called super race infamous. But a just vengeance is not retaliation. Each of these new measures of Nazi desperation will make any thought of a "soft" peace for Germany that much more unlikely.

THE C.C.F. AND TRADE

THE BITTER LESSON which the depression taught the west in elementary economics is being hammered home to us again in happier circumstance. That lesson is that the west lives only if it can find adequate export markets for its primary products. In the depression we discovered that loss of these markets spells calamity for the whole of western Canada. Since the war we have been taught that the regaining of these markets spreads a heavy covering of prosperity over the western countryside.

The logic of events has demonstrated these facts of life with such cogency as to impinge even upon the economic thinking of the C.C.F. Thus in recent weeks leaders of the C.C.F. have made grudging concession to Canada's vital dependence upon world trade. What the C.C.F. does not realize is that if our welfare depends upon world trade it knocks their elaborate theories of self-contained and self-sufficient economy fatally on the head.

The fundamental article of C.C.F. faith has been from the beginning that Canada could, by internal reorganization of her economy, cut herself aloof from dependence upon world markets. This is the main theme of a book published last autumn by Professor Frank Scott and Mr. David Lewis entitled "Make This Your Canada."

A CAREFUL reading of the book shows clearly the C.C.F. belief that the great depression in Canada was not caused by the world depression, by the slump in foreign trade, but by the mismanagement of Canada's internal business. In effect, the authors say that if Canada had enjoyed a socialist government through the depression it would have been prosperous even though every other nation in the world was prostrate. And they say that if the internal business of Canada is managed properly in future—that is, managed by socialism—this country will enjoy prosperity. Foreign trade, throughout the book, is regarded as a minor factor in the national economy. The internal Canadian market is the important thing—though how the internal market is to absorb the prairies' wheat is not explained. This outline of policy was in accord with the basic philosophy adopted by the C.C.F. when it was founded and outlined again and again by its leaders. The parliamentary record shows Mr. Woodsworth and his followers in the House of Commons reiterating year after year the statement that the world could not find prosperity in foreign trade, that the expanding market, as Mr. Woodsworth said, was a thing of the past, that solutions of economic problems must be found internally, by autarchic methods.

But after the publication of the stark doctrine of autarchy in the official handbook, "Make This Your Canada," Mr. Coldwell was obviously distressed by the Canadian reaction against it, especially in the west, where foreign trade is the lifeblood of prosperity. Mr. Coldwell therefore hurried west to Winnipeg to declare in a notable speech that the C.C.F. recognized the necessity of exporting vast amounts of surplus Canadian production, like wheat. A C.C.F. government, he said, would promote this foreign trade.

BUT WORLD TRADE is no one-way street in which everybody exports and nobody imports. This is a fact which the C.C.F. studiously avoids. It does not say that Canada must get rid of her high-cost, highly protected and uneconomic industries in eastern Canada. The existence of these industries not only force high production costs upon western agriculture, they prevent the people of Europe as well from being able to buy our agricultural products.

The reason for the C.C.F. silence on this point is not far to seek. Its greatest strength, at this moment, is in industrial Ontario. There it is taking great pains to assure the factory workers that their industries will be retained in operation by the C.C.F. They make no distinction between economic and non-economic industries. They never mention the need for reduction of tariffs against foreign imports, tariffs which lower the standard of living of all Canadians, workers and farmers alike.

The C.C.F. remains today what it was in the beginning, a party which regards trade as of little importance, a party which lays all its emphasis upon socializing the internal economy of Canada in an effort to isolate this country from the world. It is the Canada First policy of Mr. R. B. Bennett carried to its ultimate and disastrous conclusion.

Britain has its Medical Association, too, and it behaves much like ours. But Minister of Health Willink has warned that the government plans to go ahead with its national health service plans, regardless of the "preposterous accusation" that it was scheming to gain control of the medical profession.

Writing of the Third Front, the underground, Simon Harcourt-Smith warns against ideological tests and says Tito's success should be a guide: "Let the only test for us be whether a man is for or against the enemy, and, if he is against, let us, if only from dictates of common sense, aid him to the very height of our power."

The Church of Scotland (Presbyterian) is fearful of woman's newly won equality. A church commission thinks she may get to like it, and that the home may suffer. Eight million women are in the British armed forces or working in industry, a government report shows—more than 800,000 of them women with domestic responsibilities doing part-time work.

And the British are grumbling over their new "Pay-As-You-Earn" tax—after only eight weeks of it.

"Hitler Shakes Up Air Force"—headline. That's stealing the Allies' stuff.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press War Analyst

Capture of Cherbourg, now dependent on how many Germans want to die first, will bring the Allies to a new phase of the invasion—the establishment of a continental base from which to start for Germany.

That means a concentration which quite possibly would need to occupy all northwestern France, including the Brittany peninsula (Brest) and Loire (St. Nazaire) to the present beachhead, and Le Havre, which commands the Seine basin.

Otherwise, there seems to be little anchor for the Allied southern flank as it turns for the advance into France. Hitler went through northern France in 1940 without regard for French threats on his southern flank. But, while his army may be the one to disintegrate this time, Allied commanders may not want to chance it.

For the purposes of surprise, the Allies did—the illogical in landing. As someone put it, they selected an area where nobody could establish a successful beachhead, and then did it. But when preparing for battles on a large scale—presumably more than 1,000,000 men will be on each side when the campaign really gets going—terrain cannot be ignored.

The Loire and the Seine are logical flanks for a drive toward Paris.

Of course the location of the present beachhead is the only indication we have that the drive will be toward Paris. The Allies still have plenty for a new landing campaign across the ultimate battlefield of northern France and Belgium.

to help you with your farm work

"There's no question about it, selective service for military purposes has greatly cut down available farm labor. But farm work must go on, soldiers and civilians must eat well to do their jobs. That's why I just grinned and said 'Ready' when I was drafted to help do the jobs, take up the slack created when labor shortages made things so tough for primary producers. 'Yes, sir, I'm doing a full-time war job, and I know I'm doing it well or else farmers wouldn't be depending on me for results the way they do.'"

Weddings

MURPHY-FERRIDAY

Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn united in marriage June 17 in St. Mary's Church, Carolyn, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ferriday, 2017 Meadow Place, Oak Bay, and Stoker P.O. Edward J. Murphy, R.C.N.V.R., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Murphy, Drumheller, Alta. F. T. C. Wickett played the wedding music. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long gown of white satin with a sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. Her veil fell from a Mary Stuart headpiece with orange blossom, and she carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, white sweet peas and blue cornflowers. Miss Betty Cutt, maid of honor, was in pale green satin, and the bridesmaids, Miss Gloria Freeland and Miss Kay Sneddon, were in mauve and yellow satin taffeta, respectively. They all wore flower headdresses and veils and carried Colonial bouquets. St. Jack Beith was best man, and ushering were Stokers Ace Reid and John Wilsonholme, R.C.N.V.R.

A reception was held at the Oak Bay Theatre Hall. Later P.O. and Mrs. Murphy left for a honeymoon in Vancouver, the bride wearing a blue crepe frock with brown accessories, fox-trimmed topcoat and corsage bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. L. A. Genge of the Navy League, who will open Thursday's garden party in aid of the Sea Cadets at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Eade, 313 Gorge Road. Featured at the party from 2.30 to 5 will be the band of the Royal Canadian Navy. Mrs. Austin King, president of the Women's Auxiliary, will introduce Mrs. Genge.

Weddings

EARLE-STONE

Four senior attendants and two little flower girls, all wearing frocks of white moire in similar style to the bride's, preceded Margaret Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stone, 217 Wildwood Avenue, down the aisle of First United Church Tuesday evening for her marriage to Sgt. Albert John Earle, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Earle, Calgary. Rev. Hugh McLeod read the service.

The bride was given away by her father and wore a gown of white-satin having a low waist-line and a long train. The long sleeves were pointed over the fingers with French lace and a halo of the lace was caught on each side with orange blossoms. Her emerald veil flowed to the end of the train and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Mrs. Burton Dunham, Vancouver, was matron of honor while bridesmaids were Miss Ida Earle of Calgary, Miss Audrey Mudge and Miss Netta Hunter. Little Amyrills Duckett and Dorothy Gail Creelman of Cloverdale were flower girls. All wore white mitts and Dutch hats with their frocks and carried Colonial bouquets of red, white and blue flowers.

Cpl. Albert Stone, C.A.C., brother of the bride from Camp Borden, Ont., supported the groom. Ushers were P.O.'s Lincoln Painter, Ron Shrive, Robert McLennan, all R.C.N., and Sgt. Roy Bishop, R.C.A. Mrs. J. J. King of Vancouver sang "Through the Years" during the signing of the register.

A reception was held at Oak Bay Theatre hall, where parents of the bride welcomed the guests. J. J. King of Vancouver proposed the toast. Vocal solos were given by Russell Potter and P.O. Lincoln Painter, with other musical selections by Miss Kay MacDonald and Dick Potter.

After a honeymoon at Lake Louise, Banff and Calgary, Mrs. Earle will reside in Vancouver and the groom will return to No. 15 E.F.T.S., Regina, to resume training for a pilot. The bride is traveling in a melon red suit, ice blue topcoat with white fox collar, white accessories and a corsage bouquet of white gardenias.

McCALL-ALEXANDER
Only immediate relatives attended the quiet wedding this morning at 11 in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of Jean Marshall (Marshall), twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Alexander, 1158 Oliver Street, and Lt. Graham Esler McCall, R.C.A. S.C., elder son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McCall, 3367 Linwood Avenue. Rev. W. Ross performed the ceremony, assisted by Dr. H. A. McLeod.

The bride chose a turquoise gabardine suit for her wedding and was given away by her father. Her white straw hat was trimmed with pink roses and veiling, and she carried an ivory Bible topped with an orchid and showered with white heather. Mrs. J. S. Boorman, twin sister of the bride, was the only attendant, and wore an afternoon frock of orchid crepe with a white half hat trimmed with clusters of flowers over each ear. She carried a posy of pink roses, orchid sweet peas and heather. Tory McCall was groomsman for his brother.

A wedding luncheon in the Prince Albert room of the Empress Hotel followed the ceremony.

Before leaving for a honeymoon on the mainland, the bride donned a champagne camel hair topcoat with a blue and orchid handbag. Lieut. and Mrs. McCall will make their home in Red Deer, Alta. The bride is a graduate of the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

pearls was chosen by the bride, who was given away by her uncle, S. Arthur White. She carried a shower bouquet of Briarcliff roses and a string of pearls was her only jewelry. Mrs. William Blair was the senior attendant, wearing a gown of brocade rose taffeta with a tiny hat of pink rosebuds. Bridesmaids were Miss Grace Sinclair in turquoise blue taffeta and Miss Elinor Clark in shell pink, both wearing Mary Stuart headresses. Little Constance Streeton was flower girl wearing a Kate Greenaway frock of lilac satin and carried violets and sweet peas, centred with a rose.

Eric Foster supported the groom and ushers were Lloyd Lascelles and Joseph Howroyd.

Ian Galliford played Handel's "Largo" while the bridal party was in the vestry.

A reception was held in the lower ballroom of the Crystal Garden where Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sr. were presented with a wedding cake from their son and daughter-in-law, whose own cake centred the supper table. Percy Buckle proposed the toast to the bride and George I. Warren to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sr.

After a honeymoon in Vancouver, Washington and Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond will reside in Victoria, where the groom is on the staff of the city lands department. Going away, the bride wore a dove grey frock under a powder blue coat with fox collar and a flower hat.

P.T.A. Activities

North Ward—Members of the P.T.A. were hostesses at a tea and dress parade at North Ward School Tuesday afternoon for the 1944 graduating class. Red Cross work under the direction of Miss N. M. McKillean was shown, and a presentation of dolls dressed by pupils was made to Miss V. Lemmax for Quadra Primary.

F. O'Hale displayed woodwork made by grade 7 and 8 boys. Rowena Lang introduced the play and Annie Jae commented on the dresses. Members of the cast were Joan Kettles, Diana Nixon, Jean Brown, Ruth Lilgate, Dian Mar, Evelyn Jorgensen, Jacqueline Barr, Lenora Foster and Phyllis Sovenko. Pianist was Dorcas Chan. Mrs. E. Harris, president of the P.T.A., and Mrs. N. Forbes, presided at the tea. H. L. Campbell, municipal inspector, addressed the class. Miss Isla Tuck and Mrs. F. H. Parsons represented the school board. Mrs. G. W. Pottinger was guest of honor. On behalf of the students, Gerald McInnes thanked the P.T.A. for the help given them. Members of the P.T.A. committee were Mesdames R. Storey, O. W. Dyson, J. E. Moore, W. Crabbe, A. McLeod, W. E. Winter and H. Pellett.

Quadra—Graduation exercises for grade 8 pupils of Quadra School took place Monday following a display of woodwork and a dress parade. P. E. George addressed the class. Mrs. F. H. Parsons and Miss Isla Tuck represented the school board. Valetorian was Miss Burl Hanneison who presented the principal, Dr. G. H. E. Green, with a gift from the class.

Taking part in the play were Jocelyn Rigby, Frances Farbin, Sylvia Jacobson, Jean Kerr, Betty Patterson, Clair Pottinger, Carol Nelson, Harbans Kar and Gwen Ross. Pianist was Daphne Bisson. Joan Hume introduced the dress parade and Frances Logan commented on the dresses. Tea arrangements were in charge of the P.T.A. members including Mesdames C. B. Miles, M. H. Barry, W. R. Roskelley and M. Horrell.

GIRLS' CAMP

Anglican girls' camp will be held at the Y.M.C.A. "Thunderbird" camp at Glitz Lake, from July 4 to 13. Final registration will be June 27, from 2 until 4, at St. John's Church Hall, and the Memorial Hall. Girls range in age from 10 to 18.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Connell have come from Pasadena, Calif., and are at the Empress.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a girl under 20 and am employed in the work which I hope to make my career, but I am so embarrassed by the attentions of my boss that I don't know what to do. He is 60, but he seems to think that any girl working for him should permit him to kiss her whenever he wants to. I would like him as a boss if he would try to act his age and not try to get familiar every time he catches me alone. Why don't these old married men behave themselves?

WORRIED.

Answer: Nobody knows. But it is easy to tell you what you should do. Give up your job. No matter how good it is, it isn't worth your self-respect. There are plenty of employers who are not kissing bugs and now, when clever girls are at a premium, is a good time to hunt another job.

Clubwomen

Under the direction of Mrs. W. Patterson, Mrs. W. Smith, Mrs. A. Stevens, Mrs. W. Y. Stewart and Norman Ruckle, a dance took place in the Beaver Point, South Salt Spring Island, Community Hall. Eighty people attended. The music was supplied by W. Hague, L. King, K. Gahowney and the Misses N. and H. Ruckle. The dance was organized for the purpose of raising money for insurance on the hall and for this objective $30 was realized.

Twenty-five dollars was realized for the war work fund of Ganges Chapter, I.O.D.E., when Mrs. G. St. Denis, Mrs. J. Abbott and Miss H. Dean were in charge of the stall. Anna St. Denis and Michael Abbott sold tickets for a chicken dinner.

Get One-Half More Jam or Jelly from the Same Amount of Fruit ... use CERTO

YOU'LL find it so profitable and convenient this season to make your jams and jellies with Certo. This way you'll get up to one-half more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit than you will if you use old-fashioned jam and jelly making methods. And you'll get simply lovely jam or jelly—firmer, more sparkling and better tasting.

There are other important wartime reasons, too, for using Certo. It's so much quicker, so easy that even beginners find it very easy to use.

Certo Makes Fruit Go Further—Saves Your Time and Energy

Certo is fruit pectin—the natural jelling substance in fruit—extracted from fruits in which it is most plentiful. It allows you to make jam or jelly from fully ripe fruit instead of the under-ripe fruit called for in old-fashioned recipes.

WHAT CERTO IS

Certo is fruit pectin—the natural jelling substance in fruit—extracted from fruits in which it is most plentiful. It allows you to make jam or jelly from fully ripe fruit instead of the under-ripe fruit called for in old-fashioned recipes.

Look for Book of 72 Tested Recipes under the label of every Certo bottle.

A pound of jam or jelly made the Certo way contains no more sugar than a pound made the old long-boil way.

SUCH A VERY SHORT BOIL—It's quite astonishing how Certo cuts down boiling time. Certo jams need only a one to two-minute full, rolling boil... Certo jellies only a half-minute to a minute! No long, tedious, boiling and stirring. You economize on time, on effort and on fuel.

50% MORE JAM OR JELLY—During this very short boil practically no fruit juice boils off in steam as it does when you use the old long boil. The saving is so great that you get an increase of about 50%—or one-half more—jam or jelly, without any increase in the amount of fruit you use.

RETAINS NATURAL TASTE AND COLOUR—Long boiling spoils the natural fruit taste and dulls the natural colour. But boiling time with Certo is so very short it cannot spoil either taste or colour. The luscious taste and lovely colour of the fresh fruit are both retained in Certo jams and jellies.

ENDS GUESSWORK—You end guesswork when you make jams or jellies the Certo way. You get easy-to-follow recipes that give exact quantities and timing—full directions for every step. Different fruits need different handling. Follow exactly the Certo recipe for the fruit you are using and you'll get splendid results.

Army, Tuckers Victors

Pair of surprises marked Tuesday night's senior men's softball games. Army, behind the four-hit hurling of Sammy Kennedy, knocked over the Navy Club 10 to 0 to take over third place in the standing, while Tommy Tucker's came up with a 9 to 5 triumph over the second-place Douglas Tire.

Army lost no time taking control of their game with the sailors, holding a 6 to 0 lead after two innings. In the second frame, four hits, two walks and an error gave the troops five runs. Army added another single in the fourth and came up with three more in the fifth.

Kennedy was the big stickler for the Army with two for three. He struck out five and gave up no walks. Ross started for the Navy but left the game in the sixth after being charged with 10 runs, a like number of hits, and walking five. He was replaced by Dunk.

Putting together a pair of three-run rallies in the first and second innings, Tucker's had little trouble with the Tiremen, who were only able to score singles in the second and sixth and three in the seventh and final frame. Douglas Tire had a bad night in the field, with 10 errors charged against them.

Fred Billsborough was the winning hurler for Tucker's, with Taylor and Religa working for Douglas Tire.

George (Porky) Andrews made his first appearance of the season with Tucker's. In the second inning Andrews came through with a two-base knock with the bases jammed that drove home three runs.

Short scores follow:

Navy	0	4	3
Army	10	10	0
Batteries—Ross, Dunk and Jackson; Kennedy and Milliken
Douglas Tire	5	10	10
Tommy Tucker's	9	8	2
Batteries—Taylor, Religa and Standwick; Billsborough and Kennedy

In a pair of women's games, C.W.A.C. defeated the R.C.A.F. (W.D.) 8 to 7, while Yarrow's turned back Boeings 12 to 11.

Hold 5th Army Sports In Mussolini Stadium

ROME (AP)—Amid the marble magnificence of the unfinished Mussolini Stadium, which the Fascists built for 1944's now forgotten Olympic Games and where the Germans were billeted a scant fortnight ago, Allied fighting men competed Tuesday in the 5th Army track and field meet.

The men who chased the Germans up through Italy showed considerable speed by turning in the 100-yard dash in less than 10 seconds and by topping the 220-yard high hurdles in 23.14 seconds.

Wires of the loudspeaker system were strung from the arms and legs of some of the marble replicas of ancient Roman and Greek athletes.

Tuesday's victors will get detached service to prepare to represent the 5th Army in the Mediterranean war theatre track and field meet to be held here shortly.

Pte. Zemer S. Cox, negro from Wichita, Kas., won both the 100-yard dash, in which he was clocked in 9.9 seconds, and the high hurdles. A British Tommy, L.Cpl. W. Rayner, won the mile and six-mile events.

Mitchell, L.H. vs. A. Findlay, B. R. Harrison, V. vs. T. Douglas, B. J. Davis, C.P. vs. J. Kennedy, W. A. Stewart, B. vs. W. York, V. E. Barr, C.P. vs. A. Macdonell, V.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

VICTORIA sport today mourns the loss of three of its most-respected athletes. I refer to the passing in hospital, after a lengthy illness, of Edwin Harold Penderay, and the deaths in France, during the invasion, of Lieut. Tony Hope and Capt. Jack Bryden. Personally acquainted with all three, I knew them as fine athletes and their deaths came as a tremendous shock to me as it must have to the many sports fans of this city.

PENDERAY's feats on the cricket and rugby field are legion. But to one of his teammates of a few years back goes the honor of paying tribute to this fine athlete. "Harold Penderay was the 'whitest' fellow I ever met on the field in my long association with cricket. He just didn't know how to do anything shady and with him the game was the big thing all the time. I could go on and give you many incidents of his great sportsmanship but can best pay tribute to Harold Penderay by just saying he was a fine fellow."

THROUGH his fine play first with the Saanich Thistles and later with Victoria United in the Interity League Tony Hope proved himself an outstanding soccer performer. One of those players never willing to admit defeat he thrilled Victoria followers many times by his bustling attacks on the forward line of the United against the crack mainland eleven. "Tony was one of the finest boys I ever was associated with in soccer," said Dr. Arthur Poyntz, manager of the Victoria United, at the time Hope was associated with the club.

PRODUCT of the University School and Brentwood College, two institutions that have developed so many fine athletes, Jackie Bryden starred on the rugby field with the Canadian Scottish at the time the regiment fifteen was at its peak. Bryden was a teammate of such other noted rugby performers as Jack Horne, Billy Oliver and the Wenmans, Reg and Godfrey. He was a position on Victoria's Crimson Tide in the McKee Cup intercity competition many, many times. "Bryden was a fine rugby player and made himself a valuable performer by his aggressive style," said Bob McInnes, veteran Victoria coach and many times leader of the rep squad. Bryden was also a valued member of the Inco's cricket team. Capt. Bryden was a great grandson of Robert Dunsuir, who came here nearly a century ago from Scotland, discovering coal mines near Nanaimo, and a great nephew of Hon. James Dunsuir, one-time Premier and Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia.

THESE THREE ATHLETES have answered the final call but I know their feats on the field of sport will long be remembered. I have lost three cherished friends, two of whom died in the greatest game being played in the world today. I know their deaths will not have been in vain and as long as cricket, rugby and soccer are played in this city the names of Harold Penderay, Tony Hope and Jack Bryden will be remembered as three who played the game.

Lawn Bowling

Sixty-four players took part in the prize game of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club in Beacon Hill Park. First prize went to J. Richardson's rink with 31 points to T. York's 15. Second prize was won by A. Findley's rink with 17 against 8 by Breckenridge. Third place was won by S. Kinsey's team, who beat that of E. F. Fox by 19 to 12. Following are the scores by rinks:

H. Jealousie	G. Upward	Mrs. Huxtable	J. Richardson	31
W. O. Baker	Mrs. Hayling	Mrs. Peden	A. Findley	17

DYKES REJOINS SOX

CHICAGO (AP)—Jimmy Dykes, manager of Chicago White Sox left Monday for St. Louis to take charge of his club again, after 10 days' illness.

DUROCHER BACK ON BENCH

BROOKLYN (AP)—Leo Durocher was returned to the status of a bench manager Tuesday when his name was taken off the active list of the Brooklyn Dodgers. His place on the roster was taken by 19-year-old Clyde King, right-handed pitcher.

Mudders Have Big Day at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP)—Mudders had a field day at Polo Park with only one hot favorite romping home in the seven-race card Tuesday.

Little Silent, winner of the first, and Ebony Lad, the best in the second, provided a daily double of $167.75. Little Silent paid $12.90 for a $2 straight bet, the highest pay-off for the day.

The field for the feature event, the President's Handicap, was cut to four when Masculine was scratched. Noble King, the favorite, romped home in front.

The quinnella again was very little more than the straight pay-off price for the winner, Genies Boy, in the seventh. Genies Boy and Diamond made a quinnella worth $13.55. Genies Boy's nose bet return was $9.90.

Results follow:
First race—Purse $600, claiming, three-year-olds and up, five furlongs. Little Silent (Mackell) — $12.90 & $8.80 $5.10

Fletchers, Oaklands Win Lacrosse Games

In box lacrosse games this week Fletchers and Oaklands came through to victories. The former turned back the Navy 11 to 6, while Oaklands accounted for Fairfield 17 to 8.

Navy led Fletchers at the end of the first period by the odd goal in five, but the winners rallied in the second and third cantos to net eight tallies against two for the opposition. Scoring honors for Fletchers were divided, with McKay, Scott, Walker and Yardley each netting a pair, while Lavalle notched two for the sailors and Simpson found the goal twice.

Green was high scorer for Oaklands against Fairfield with half a dozen goals, while Gallop got four and Colton scored a like number for the losers.

Murders and Owl Drug will meet in the next game tomorrow evening, starting at 7.

Philadelphia A's Whip Boston Twice

Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics haven't won a pennant since away back when, and they aren't hot choices this year, but they might have quite a bit to say about who emerges on top in the American loop's free-for-all.

Connie's conglomeration, of kids, castoffs and Cubans were residing placidly in last place when Joe Cronin's spurring second-place Boston Red Sox came to town and 18,500 fans turned out to see the fun.

When the smoke from the double-header cleared away, the Mackmen had jumped to a sixth-place tie, and had spoiled Boston's chance of slipping into first place over St. Louis Browns, who split a twin bill with Chicago's White Sox.

The A's needed 11 innings to beat Boston in the opener 5 to 4 but the second was easy, veteran Bobo Newsom allowing two hits for a 2 to 0 shutout.

The Browns stretched their lead to 1½ games by salvaging the second from Chicago 5 to 0, after losing the 10-frame opener 4 to 3. Al Hollingsworth won his first of the season in the nightcap.

Hank Borowy came up with another good mound chore, a four-hitter, and the Yanks loosed a 10-blow barrage behind him, as they defeated Washington 3 to 1 with Bud Metheny's homer deciding it.

DETROIT BEATEN

Cleveland beat Detroit 3 to 1. Ray Mack, war worker, flew to Detroit for the twilight tilt and his ninth-inning fly sent the winning run home as hard-working Paul Trout weakened.

Bucky Walters copped his 11th win with a neat two-hitter against Pittsburgh's Pirates, the Cincinnati star adding the 3 to 0 shutout to other outstanding mound chores which included a one-hitter, and a pair of three-hitters. The Reds eased into third place, .001 ahead of the Giants.

The New Yorkers had a chance to stay up there, spurting for four runs in the first frame against Brooklyn, but Les Webber relieved Rube Melton with two out and held the Ottmen the by the "Y" in co-operation with the United Church.

Co-directors for the camp will be Rev. W. Allan and Rev. H. W. Kerley. Camp registrations had been satisfactory, said Morrison, and he reminded all boys who wished to attend Thunderbird Camp this year to get in touch with him at the "Y."

rest of the way as the Dodgers won 7 to 6.

Al Jurisich pitched five-hit ball for the loop-leading St. Louis Cardinals, but was in hot water all the way because of five walks and three hit batsmen. Pepper Martin and Stan Musial roamed far afield for sensational catches, however, and gave him a 2 to 1 victory over the last-place Chicago Cubs. The Phillies-Boston Braves game was postponed.

COAST LEAGUE

Portland broke an eight-game losing streak and moved into third place in the Coast League standing last night while Seattle halted the fast-moving Oakland win string at seven games to move closer to the leading San Francisco Seals.

Portland topped the Los Angeles Angies 8 to 3 and Seattle dumped the Acorns 4 to 3.

San Diego dropped Hollywood into fourth place behind the Beavers with an 8 to 2 triumph and hurler Rex Cecil's 15th win of the season.

Sacramento hurler Clem Drieswerd allowed San Francisco but four hits as the Solons blanked the leaders 4 to 0.

Formally Opened

DUNCAN—The new Olympic Boys' Club was opened in Duncan in the presence of 150 friends and well-wishers. Rex Hayes, prime mover in the club, has been greatly assisted by S. B. Hamilton. Members will be boys from 12 to 21 years of age, and it is planned to have a variety of sports for them.

The city has given the use of the disused school building, and friends have been busy for some weeks getting this in order, tearing off the old plaster, and replacing with gyproc, painting, and in all ways making this a delightful building for this venture.

Hayes gave the opening speech and thanked all who had helped with time, money and material for this much-needed project.

Lester Patrick of Victoria gave an inspiring talk to the boys on sportsmanship, good citizenship, etc., and then presented the members with the club insignia, the Olympic wings, which had been made for them by Mrs. S. B. Hamilton.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Stephens, Mrs. H. Marsh and Miss M. Herd, and helpers.

Koraway Captures Dufferin Feature

TORONTO (CP)—Koraway of the Hamilton, Ont., Catalpa Stable, Tuesday captured top honors in the Etobicoke Purse, $1,000 claiming affair that served as feature offering at the Long Branch meet at Dufferin race track.

Held at slightly less than four to one, the winner, piloted by jockey Gordon Atkins, finished two lengths in front of the MacDonald Stable's Depressor, who held the same margin over Part King.

The winner covered the seven-furlong gallop in 1:32 and paid $9.55 for a $2 win ticket.

C.C.F. in Sask. Sure of 44 Seats; 2 Still in Doubt

REGINA (CP)—The C.C.F., led by Premier-Elect T. C. Douglas, was certain today of a majority in the next Saskatchewan Legislature of at least 33 in the 55-member House with prospects of it being greater when final returns are in.

Late returns from Meadow Lake on last Thursday's civilian vote increased the C.C.F. membership to 44. Counting of the service personnel vote in the province was also completed, but it failed to affect the standings. The Liberals won five seats and the Progressive Conservatives did not elect a member.

Only 51 seats were at stake in last week's election and the two seats still in doubt—Gravelbourg and Turtledove—showed C.C.F. nominees well in front.

In Meadow Lake, Herschel Howell, C.C.F., was conceded election. With 57 of 60 polls reported, plus the soldier vote, Howell had 2,017, D. MacDonald (L) 1,753 and Rev. William Tittle (PC) 730. The three remaining polls are small.

SOLDIERS GO C.C.F.

The soldier vote favored C.C.F. candidates almost two-to-one. A total of 5,345 ballots was distributed and 106 ballots rejected. In the 45 single-member ridings, C.C.F. candidates received 2,857 votes, Liberals 1,334, and Progressive Conservatives 371.

With electors voting for two candidates in Moose Jaw, Regina and Saskatoon constituencies the total distribution for the 48 constituencies was: C.C.F. 3,225, Liberal 1,588, Progressive Conservative 553, and others 52.

In Gravelbourg, Dr. H. E. Houze, C.C.F., lead Hon. Z. M. Culliton, Minister without Portfolio, by 95 votes with one poll to report.

In Turtledove 41 of 63 polls have reported giving R. Woolf, C.C.F., a plurality of 533 over Hon. W. F. Kerr, Minister of National Resources.

MAY BE RECOUNT

Premier W. J. Patterson had a plurality of 18 votes over Mrs. Gladys Strum with all polls reported. Decision on the C.C.F. request for a recount will depend on the official results of the civilian vote, election officials stated. The election in remote Cumberland constituency has been deferred until June 24 while three members later will be elected to represent Saskatchewan service personnel serving outside the province.

There were 280 polls yet to report. Votes from 2,860 polls gave the C.C.F. slightly more than 53 per cent of the 378,861 votes. The C.C.F. received 199,812, Liberals 133,600, Progressive Conservatives 42,872 and others 2,577.

Wallace's Words Interest Chungking

By SPENCER MOOSA
CHUNGKING (AP)—Vice-President Wallace of the United States, who prophesied on his arrival here that the Chinese-Russian boundary would become a friendly frontier like that between the United States and Canada, went sightseeing today before paying official calls.

He was a luncheon guest of Gen. Ho Ying-chin, Chinese minister of war.

Mr. Wallace visited an American Red Cross club, where he met Red Cross girls, including Chinese-Canadian Cathleen Lee of Edmonton, and Calgary.

On his arrival here Tuesday from Russia the vice-president evoked wide interest by quoting Dr. Hu Shih, Chinese ambassador to the United States, as saying the border between China and Siberia "should be like the frontier between the United States and Canada—not one of separation, but one of joining friends together."

"I believe it will be so," Mr. Wallace commented in a prepared statement.

Chungking took the view that Mr. Wallace would not have expressed such an opinion unless he had reason to believe China's borders, particularly in Manchuria, would be respected after the war. The Chinese have had some doubts on this subject, which they have expressed privately.

Alberta Flood Losses Believed $1,000,000

EDMONTON (CP)—Damage from the now receding flood waters of the Pembina and Paddle rivers 65 miles northwest of Edmonton is estimated at $1,000,000 in property, crops, livestock, bridges, railways and roads, Barry Galbraith, Dominion Poultry Inspector, said.

Mr. Galbraith said relief will be needed as 500 families suffered heavily in an area extending from Sangudo, 70 miles northwest of Edmonton, along the Pembina

WO. E. F. Hagarty, R.C.N.V.R., who was among the Victorians taking part in the invasion of Normandy aboard R.C.N. craft.

The Netherlands in Europe has increased its home production of tobacco at least tenfold, because war has cut off imports.

River through Belvedere, Rossington, Langford, Manola and Freedom, to Jarvie, about 60 miles northeast of Sangudo.

Meanwhile Dan. E. C. Campbell, Alberta government publicity and travel bureau director, warned that continued serious flood conditions may prevail throughout the early part of July if rains or hot weather strike the Rocky Mountain watershed.

Victorians Attend Nanaimo Meeting

A group of eight members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, headed by G. Hamilton Harman, president, left at noon today to attend afternoon and evening sessions of the annual meeting of Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island at Nanaimo.

Accompanying Mr. Harman, who is vice-president of the associated boards, was J. V. Johnson, past president of the Victoria chamber; George I. Warren, managing secretary; W. J. Clark, Kenneth Drury, W. T. Straith, K.C., M.L.A., J. E. Neely and M. C. Trueman.

To be considered at the meeting are eight resolutions submitted by Duncan, Malahat, Port Alberni and Tofino boards and chambers. No resolutions will be submitted by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Equipment Additions For Telephone Company

Installation of additions to the B.C. Telephone Co.'s switchboard in Victoria has been made necessary by the continued growth in demand for essential services, C. C. Simpson, district manager, said Tuesday.

Changes will be made in the company's accounting organization to gain space for the additions. Effective July 15, the changes will involve consolidations in Vancouver.

No permanent Victoria employees of the company will lose their job because of the change, according to Mr. Simpson.

Promoted Overseas

PO. Edward Henry Brian de Blaquiére, R.C.A.F., son of Mrs. Julia deBlaquiére, Park Mansions, 903 North Park Street, has been promoted while on active service overseas to that rank from warrant officer; it is announced by Western Air Command.

Victoria-born, deBlaquiére was educated at Victoria High, was a prominent athlete, starring in English rugby, was employed in the Public Works department at Nelson before enlisting in 1941.

Flying with the famous "Wimpy" squadron from bases in Italy, Ted recently completed his tours of operations, writing his mother that he had been posted as an instructor.

He got his commission the hard way. The "Wimpies" have been operating in what is tantamount to a swing shift with U.S. Flying Fortresses, the Americans hitting the target by day and the Wellingtons taking over at night. Ted has been on many dangerous missions, including raids which wrecked a fighter aircraft manufacturing plant near Bologna in Italy, Piraeus in Greece, Sofia, the capital of Bulgaria and over southern Germany.

Judges Appointed

At the flower show of Victoria Horticultural Society in the Crystal Garden Friday and Saturday, the following will be judges: David Reid, specialist in the growing of fine roses, who will handle the rose classes, and E. W. White of the Department of Agriculture and Wm. Hamilton, head gardener at the Military Hospital on Lansdowne Road, who will judge the many classes in the general section, both of flowers as well as fruits and vegetables.

Several special displays will be staged, among which will be a large display of succulents and cacti; another of carnations and still others of roses and other flowers which are blooming at this season.

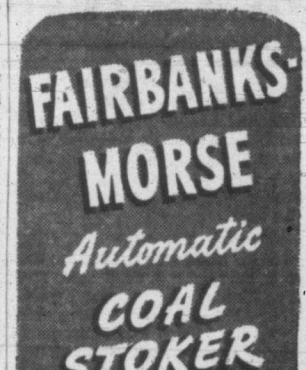

The show will open Friday afternoon at 2 and continue until Saturday evening.

Suspends Pitcher

BROOKLYN (AP)—Mel Ott, manager of the New York Giants, said Tuesday that pitcher Ewald Pyle had been fined and suspended indefinitely for breaking training rules.

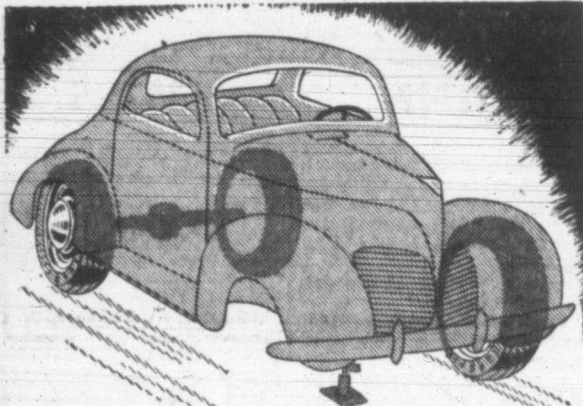

Ott declared the pitcher became involved in an argument with a stranger after hurling the Giants to a victory in the second half of Saturday's twin bill at Boston and suffered a chipped bone in his hand in the fist-swinging debate. "He will remain suspended until he is able to pitch," said Ott. Pyle is the first player suspended by Ott in his career as a manager.

SAY—this soup is Super-Duper

ONE DISH everybody likes to start a meal with—especially a cold meal—is good hot soup. One soup nearly everybody goes for is Campbell's Chicken Noodle.

This soup, you see, is made the old-fashioned way. It starts with plump chickens—and is slow-simmered to a rich golden broth—just like folks made chicken noodle soup in the good old days. Then in go delicious morsels of tender, tasty chicken meat—and plenty of grand egg noodles.

By its taste you'd think Campbell's Chicken Noodle Soup came right from the soup kettle in an old-fashioned kitchen. It has that old-time wholesomeness too. Yes, for folks who need extra energy to keep up the pace of war-time work, this hale-and hearty soup is just the thing.

Remember—this isn't just noodle soup—it's Chicken Noodle Soup—Look for the familiar Red-and-White Label.

action against Wilson & Cabeldu Ltd.

The judgment, following the English case, establishes the point payments made by one contracting party to another must be refunded in full if war conditions prevent fulfillment of the contract.

"I find," says Judge Shandley's judgment, "that under the contract in writing, dated November 10, 1941, whereby the plaintiff (Robbins) transferred to the defendant a second-hand automobile, the defendant now holds a part of the purchase price, namely $332.29, to be applied on account of the purchase of a new car to be sold and delivered by the defendant to the plaintiff. Owing to circumstances arising out of the war (the provisions of Order No. MVC 17, dated March 28, 1942, and published in the Canada Gazette of April 13, 1942) the contract has become impossible of fulfillment for the simple reason that the controller mentioned in the said order refuses to issue a permit authorizing the sale or delivery of the car.

"The defendant refused to return to the plaintiff this sum of $332.29 and the plaintiff now brings action to recover it.

"There has been a total failure of consideration and neither party is to blame. I have come to the conclusion that the plaintiff is entitled to succeed under the decision of Fibrosa Spolka Akcyjna v. Fairbairn Lawson Combe Barbour Ltd. (1943), A.C. p. 32.

'Little Joe Up Front' Still King Writes Victorian From France

Cpl. Robert George Handley of the Canadian Signal Corps is in the thick of the fighting in Normandy, but he's more concerned about how his father, Robert G. Handley, 1225 Sunnyside Avenue, is getting on than about his own welfare. He has a fine word to say about Canada's infantrymen whom he refers to as "Little Joe up Front."

His air mail letter took just eight days to reach Victoria from the fighting in France. He gave his address as "Over There."

Cpl. Handley joined the signal corps in 1939 before he was 17 years of age. He spent over three years in England. Since he left Canada his mother has died.

"I've not been able to get this line off sooner as you can understand we are and have been busy. I came in about three hours after the first bunch and of course the beach was still fairly lively.

"Now, Dad, I hope you are well and not worrying too much. We have learned something in three days and that's dig, dig, and you're O.K. Of course we were all a bit worried the first few hours, Dad, but all doubt as to how we'd act when it came dissolved; we were too damn busy. Little Joe up front with a rifle is still king, Dad, and they are grand, no fooling. The whole outfit's grand, the navy and the air force.

"I never thought I'd see so much beauty in a plane. Of course, Jerry sneaks a few in at night but the R.A.F. have the whole sky in the daytime.

"The country looks much like parts of England, the people are still just a bit dazed and in any case I've had no time to know them. My French is nil, but it's surprising what you can do with your arms.

"There is nothing I really need, Dad, except to know all goes well with you. This letter is a hell of a mess, but you can accept the situation as I'm not in the Waldorf just at present. By the way, would you care to subscribe to the Society for the Betterment of Living Conditions in Slit Trenches. With each gift we send you the monthly magazine 'The Earth Worm.' Now, Dad, if my letters are not too regular don't worry and take care of yourself."

Clerks and stenographers have spent a great deal of time discussing what little they know of the reclassification and wondering where they stand. Department heads have been besieged by inquiries from their staffs, but they, too, have been unable to supply any definite information.

The civil servants must have patience until the commission can cope with the enormous amount of work involved; the department heads say. Then they will know everything about the reclassification as the government feels this is necessary to complete satisfaction and understanding.

ROCKET BASES HIT

At the same time big fleets of Allied planes were observed streaking out across Dover Strait and disappeared in the direction of the German rocket bomb bases which now have been pounded continuously for five days.

Tuesday night the tempo of the Allied aerial offensive was maintained as R.A.F. Mosquitoes thundered out in relays for four hours to harass German lines of reinforcements by blasting the Meuzen-railroad yards near Caen in the Normandy battle area. Rail yards at Chartres also were hit.

Meantime the Germans intensified their rocket bomb attacks on southern England during the night after a day of comparative inactivity and a few Nazi planes also were reported over Scotland.

Some casualties and damage were inflicted in southern England by flying bombs.

1,000 Bombers, 1,000 Fighters Pound at Berlin

By GLADWIN HILL

LONDON (AP)—More than 1,000 U.S. heavy bombers blasted Berlin and the capital's outskirts today and the German radio indicated that at least some of the planes flew on eastward—possibly in the first shuttle raid from Britain to new U.S. bases in Russia.

The bomber fleet had an escort of about 1,000 fighters, making a total force of some 2,000 planes which carried the aerial war once more to the heart of the German homeland.

Basdorf, on Berlin's outskirts, also was blasted.

German broadcasts admitted damage and casualties.

NO NAZI FIGHTERS

First bomber pilots back at British bases said there was plenty of flak over the targets, but they did not see a single German fighter—a rare occurrence in raids on the hub of Germany.

Berlin broadcasts said the Hannover and Brunswick areas also had been attacked by the daylight raiders, but there was no immediate Allied confirmation of these reports.

German broadcasts asserted Berlin had been the target of a "heavy terror raid," and said Germany would retaliate in due time "with bigger and more powerful explosives than the present new weapon (flying bombs) which already has caused havoc beyond description."

Cyclist Hurt in Crash

Fred Bossom, Cordova Bay, suffered shock and bruises at 7.30 today when the autocycle he was riding on Marine Drive and a car driven by Cpl. Frank Shel-drake, R.C.A.F., collided. Attended by Saanich police and Dr. E. L. McNiven, the injured man was taken home.

Slight damage resulted at 3.20 Tuesday afternoon when a car driven by Herbert Felton Crjwe, 1328 Craigdarroch, and an army truck driven by Spr. A. M. Paquette collided on Humboldt Street.

Civil Defence

James Bay, District No. 8—Executive will meet Thursday at 8 at the Red Cross Hall, 565 Michigan Street. Senior wardens are requested to attend.

W. A. Grant, 1876 Howlnley, told police Tuesday night his car had been stolen from View Street. A car owned by B. R. Coker was taken from Broad Street.

USED CAR "SQUEEZE"

From Toronto Star.

Right now both Prices Board and R.C.M.P. are working hard to check a fast-growing black market in used cars. "It's the biggest threat we have," said Inspector Armitage. He told of two cases, one where a car was sold for $950 above the ceiling. In a trade-in "squeeze" the buyer was forced to sell his own reasonably good car for $10 before the dealer would sell him another one.

"to the best advantage"

At Wilson & Cabeldu we will appraise your car honestly and generously. We will pay you all cash, and we will give you up to the ceiling price. But we will not encourage "black market" methods or indulge in "squeeze" tactics. And when you sell your car here you can be quite certain that all the legal requirements and red tape are taken care of in a businesslike manner. In the best sense of the term you will sell your car "to the best advantage" when you sell to

Complain of Treatment

QUEBEC (CP)—Alderman Joseph Matte said Tuesday night a letter he had received from 133 French-Canadian soldiers at the Courtenay, B.C., military camp had complained of "bad treatment" the men had received for refusing to sign for active service.

Mr. Matte said the soldiers had written that they were "refused" medical attention, treated as savages, and insulted, and that those who signed for active service were given gifts by the officers.

Babe Zaharias Continues Fine Golf in Western

CHICAGO (AP)—Several upsets marked Tuesday's first-round championship match play in the women's western open golf tournament, but the two favorites—Dorothy Geran of Philadelphia and "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias of Beverly Hills, Calif., cruised in with easy victories heading for their expected showdown for the title.

Another surprise was the defeat of Marjorie Row of Anniston, Ala., a student at Rollins College in Florida. This veteran fell before the sharpshooting Ohioan, Claire Doran of Cleveland, 3 and 2.

"Babe" Zaharias, the medalist, eliminated Margaret Russel of Detroit, 4 and 3, after holding a 5-up advantage with a one-over-39 on the front nine. Many of the Babe's booming shots wandered into traps and rough, but she was only four over par when the match ended on the 15th green.

Miss Germain won seven holes on the first nine, posting a 40 to a 47 for her opponent, Mrs. Thomas Nolan of New Castle, Pa., and then took the 10th and 11th with pars for a 3 and 7 decision—most lopsided victory of the day.

Cygnets Still Sailing

Cynthia the cygnet, Victoria's baby swan hatched at Goodacre Lake recently, is doing well, is too young to get into trouble, and won't go into seclusion in a special, protective enclosure for another two or three weeks.

The tender age safety element is emphasized by Parks Superintendent Herb Warren. Not that he views the fluffy water fowl's future with an eye to averting juvenile delinquency. He is merely satisfied the cygnet is not yet big enough to make a decent meal.

The mysterious disappearances of Cynthia's elder brothers and sisters in recent years have given Mr. Warren the shrewd suspicion that the cygnets, like swans, may be the favorite dish of some Victoria gourmet. The baby birds disappear so completely he cannot believe rats or other animals are the cause. Rodents, he is convinced, would leave some trail.

Mr. Warren does not expect his cygnets to achieve their best for a week or two.

Popularity of the park, increasing yearly, has been emphasized this season by the early date at which picnic groups have made reservations for the grounds adjacent to the playing field. More church groups and other societies than ever before have made application to date and already the number accommodated has been substantial.

To improve facilities, picnic tables are now being put in position for general use.

Art Gill, prominent Calgary athlete, has been killed overseas with the R.C.A.F. In 1941 he won the National Rifle Association pistol expert competition, sharpshooter's and marksman crests as a member of the Calgary Revolver Club. Hal (Edmonton Bulletin) Dean attributes increasing interest in soccer to the large number of Britishers and Empire youths who came to Canada to train under the Commonwealth Air Training Plan. He predicts a good future for the game.

Willie Joyce Will Fight Pep July 7

CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Joyce, Gary, Ind., Negro lightweight, winner of two out of three engagements with Henry Armstrong, Monday was matched for a 10-round bout with Willie Pep, Hartford, Conn., at the White Sox ball park, July 7, under the promotion of Jack Kearns.

WHEELS TO REELS

Ned Northwood used to run a filling station in Staveland, Alta., before gasoline was rationed and he went into the racehorse game. Now Northwood has closed up his business and is devoting himself to racing, a far more profitable pastime. Northwood invested $50 in a nag, by name Kaliko, seven years ago. From that modest beginning he has developed into one of the Canadian west's leading horse citizens, and owner of Teeworth, the big mare that has brought home $14,800 worth of bacon the past two years.

INCIDENTALLY

The Ottawa Tennis Club is in the race for the title of Canada's oldest. Records show the club organized in 1880 which gives it the edge on Winnipeg and Victorial. Art Gill, prominent Calgary athlete, has been killed overseas with the R.C.A.F. Warns of Trouble For Canada Youth

"Youth, very shortly, will be in a morass of difficulty," warned Frank Paulding, Y.M.C.A. executive secretary, as he urged the necessity of helping youth and understanding it, in an address to the Kiwanis Club in Empress Hotel, Tuesday.

Planned rehabilitation of youth which had served overseas, was necessary, he said, and also that which had served in industry during the war. He suggested service clubs set up committees for the understanding of this youth.

"Youth is unsettled," he said, and outlined the breaking up of homes as men went overseas and women and youths went into industry. Youth was attempting to solve its own problem, he said, and quoted the example set by the Canadian Youth Commission in which the younger generation of Canada was offering suggestions and plans for its own improvement.

Welcome Club Shows Club Activity Film

Preview of a colored motion picture featuring Welcome Club activities was shown to a group of club officials and guests Tuesday afternoon.

First scene of the picture, taken by C. Ferris, B.C. provincial government photographer, showed Maj. A. McFarlane, welfare officer, making a speech to a Sunday crowd in Beacon Hill Park during an intermission in a naval band concert.

Second scene was of the Welcome Club caravan, and showed Mrs. A. D. M. Curry, convener, talking with two sailors, who were seeking information.

Among those who attended the preview were Ald. W. H. Davies, Ald. D. D. McTavish, Maj. R. W. Phipps, A. H. Pease, organizer of the Welcome Club, and Mrs. Pease, Mrs. Curry, Maj. A. McFarlane, Carl Fallas and C. W. Marshall, National Film Board representative.

By-law Monday Triples Amount Paid By Empress

Provided the city by-law covering fixed taxation on the Empress

Hotel secures the three-fifths majority it requires in the property-owners' vote Monday. Victoria will receive more than three times the amount of money from the C.P.R. It has collected in previous years on the hotel property. The by-law calls for payment by the company of $34,000 a year against $10,000 annually collected under the 20-year agreement which expires Dec. 31.

The mechanics of the arrangement called for approval by both City Council and company of an agreement. When they reached accord, the by-law was drafted and given preliminary readings by the council. Before it receives final passage, it must be submitted to the vote of the property owners as a money-by-law. That type of by-law requires a three-fifths majority for passage. Following the vote, if the required percentage is secured, the by-law will be finally passed by the council.

The Public Market Building will be open from 9 in the morning to 7 in the evening to record the vote Monday.

Council members today expressed the hope a strong body of property owners would exercise the franchise to present a fully representative picture to the mayor and aldermen when final action is taken on the by-law.

Anti-Rodeo Petition

For signatures of objectors to the proposed rodeo at the Wilfrid Park, a petition is being distributed in Greater Victoria.

Objection has been filed with the Victoria City Council, which refused the original application to hold the rodeo. The purpose of the petition is to protest against Oak Bay council and B.C. Agricultural Association approving the rodeo. The petition's main objection is on the grounds of cruelty to animals.

Bus Traffic in City Shows 44.5% Increase

MONTREAL—B.C. Electric Railway Co., which began bus operations in Victoria Dec. 21, 1929, last year carried 843,902 bus passengers in its 15 buses over four miles of city route, an average of 3.61 per bus mile, bringing the bus traffic total 44.5 per cent higher than that of 1942.

On the mainland last year, B.C. E.R.'s 49 Vancouver buses carried 6,847,347 passengers over the route mileage of 19.92, an average of 4.9 per bus mile. Revenue per bus mile in Vancouver was 28.5 cents per mile. Expenses per bus mile, before depreciation, were 23.2 cents, and, after depreciation, 28.7 cents.

In 1928, Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd. commenced operations in Victoria, and today are operating a fleet of 51 on a route mileage of 460, of which 55 are city and 405 are interurban.

Bus mileage totaled by the coach lines last year was 2,100,331, of which 612,773 miles were city travel and 1,487,558 interurban.

Inquiry Hears Of Fire Loss Drop

Damage to forests in western Washington through fire has been reduced to such an extent that second growth timber areas are now an insurable risk by insurance companies, with a premium of 1 cent an acre, Charles S. Cowan of Seattle, chief fire warden for the Washington Forest Fire Protective Association, told the Forest Inquiry Tuesday, as he said the association was formed because of industry's recognition of the need to protect its own lands.

"The association and membership as a whole have been responsible for the forest law on the books of the state of Washington," Mr. Cowan told Mr. Justice Gordon McG. Sloan, royal commissioner.

"A substantial reduction in fire loss last year was a combination of increased protection and favorable weather conditions," he said. "Care used by logging operators has shown much improvement over the last 10 years."

Describing the organization and mechanized equipment of the association, Mr. Cowan said there were 5,000,000 acres of timberland within its protection unit, and over-all cost of protection was 3½ cents an acre per year over the last four years. The same fire protection levy is made in each of the 19 districts within the unit, but owners with more exposed portions of land who wish increased protection, enter into an agreement with the association to furnish that protection, the owners paying the cost, he said.

Mr. Cowan advocated keeping the public off cut-over lands from five to 10 years, depending upon the speed with which the new growth was established.

When queried by Walter S. Owen, counsel for the B.C. Loggers' Association on the relation of clean cut to tractor logging, in the state; Mr. Cowan said that 65 per cent of the logging was clean cut today by bigger companies, who had a definite forest plan for provision of restocking.

Nelson S. Rogers, state forester for Oregon, told the morning hearing of a pool of equipment built up at Salem Headquarters for the fighting of fires.

The pool is maintained by retaining $10,000 from the state allotment, he said, as he advocated a budget for maintenance and additions to equipment, in all protective units.

Sufficient slash burning is required in the state of Oregon to allow for the control of an accidental fire, Mr. Rogers told H. W. Davey, counsel for the commission, in answer to a question on snag felling and slash burning. The attitude toward slash burning today is to burn to benefit regeneration, he said.

"Nine out of 10 logging operators are helpful and co-operative in the state of Oregon. They are becoming very forest-minded, and are looking for improved methods."

Policy of the State Board of Forestry with regards to sales on state land is not to make a sale of an area of immature timber, except for the purpose of improving the stand, Mr. Rogers told the inquiry. Value of the lumber and allied industries to Oregon in 1942 amounted to $227,000,000, he said.

Among spectators at Tuesday's hearing were H. R. MacMillan and Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., Attorney-General of the province.

it's the truth!

You CAN make your teeth far brighter!

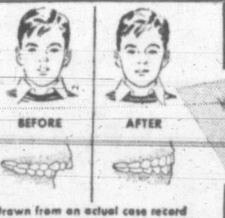

Impartial laboratories made hundreds of tests. Scientists checked their findings with photoelectric measuring devices and authorize this statement: Pepsodent Powder produces a lustre on teeth twice as bright as the average of all other leading brands...brighter than any of them—bar none! These results have been double-checked by identical twins who made practical in-the-home tests...by dental clinics...by dentists in their own offices. The result is always the same: Pepsodent Powder makes teeth far brighter. Get Pepsodent Powder today to make teeth bright as they can be!

Smiles DO show on report cards!

Protruding teeth made this boy self-conscious...and backward in school. But when modern dentistry corrected his teeth, his look, and his whole mental attitude were changed. Today, dentistry can do wonders in correcting crooked, misplaced, and unsightly teeth. Chipped or broken teeth, too, can be repaired like the movie stars. So watch children's teeth carefully. Visit the dentist regularly. It's the truth...a child's personality and future may depend on how well teeth are formed, how bright and clean they look!

"Where do we go from here?"

That's an important question for all of us, but this we know...

Hundreds of thousands of Canadians have long shopping lists of things they intend to buy when the war is over—new refrigerators, radios, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, cars—things they have saved for during these war years.

Thousands want new homes.

Industry will have a busy time meeting this pent up demand when peace returns. Private firms are already planning how to give you new and better goods than their competitors, at better prices.

This all adds up to jobs and opportunity for all of us after the war. Canada will be a busy place when Victory is won.

Allied Communique 30

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE (AP)—Headquarters announced Tuesday Allied troops were attacking "the outer defences of Cherbourg."

Montebourg has been liberated and our forces are on three sides of Valognes, where heavy fighting is in progress, the communique said.

Very heavy fighting continued near Hottot yesterday, S.H.A.E.F. said.

Bad weather restricted aerial activity until noon today.

Montebourg has been liberated and our forces are on three sides of Valognes, where heavy fighting is in progress.

Our positions in the area of Tilly are firm.

Very heavy fighting continued near Hottot yesterday.

Bad weather in the battle area limited air operations until mid-day today.

Fighter-bombers and bombers with fighter escort attacked the flying bomb bases in the Pas-de-Calais area during the morning. Several hits were scored on these and other military installations.

Another formation of fighter-bombers hit a bridge over the Loire near Nantes, destroyed a railway bridge at Granville and bombed rolling stock and motor transport at Trappes, southwest of Paris.

Fighter-bombers also successfully attacked railway tracks at a number of places both north and south of Chartres. Twelve Focke-Wulf 190s attempted to interfere with this operation. Five of them were destroyed in air combat for the loss of three of our aircraft.

Parents, Friends Mourn 50 Fliers Slain By Nazis

LONDON (CP-Reuters)—Widows, parents and friends mourned 50 R.A.F. Dominion and Allied air forces officers, including six Canadians, who were slain by the Germans after a mass escape from Stalag Luft III last March.

(Those killed included Lt. P. W. Langford, son of Capt. and Mrs. R. W. Langford, formerly of Victoria.)

At a memorial service in St. Martin-in-the-Fields Church they and officers and airmen repatriated from the camp heard the chaplain-in-chief of the R.A.F. pay tribute to the airmen.

Representatives of the squadrons from which the slain officers came also were in the congregation.

Air Chief Marshal Sir Charles Portal, chief of the air staff, read the lesson at the service.

Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary of State for Air, ambassadors and Dominion high commissioners, Prime Minister Fraser of New Zealand, and representatives of the United Nations, the British Red Cross Society and prisoners of war fund, all filled past the guard of honor formed outside the church by R.A.F. Dominions and Allied airmen.

Ask No More Ether For Beverages

VANCOUVER (CP)—Members of the council of the B.C. Pharmaceutical Association approved at their meeting Tuesday a resolution asking an amendment to the Pharmacy Act, making it more difficult to obtain ether from drug stores.

At the request of the Attorney General's Department and Dr. G. F. Amyot, provincial health officer, members asked for the amendment which make ether obtainable in drug stores only by persons known to the druggist who signs the poison register.

At present, ether can be sold to anyone if it carries the poison label.

Dr. Amyot said there have been several cases where ether has been used to pep up beverages.

Yanks Hear Blasts From Cherbourg; French Give Aid

CHERBOURG, 6:58 P.M. (AP)—U.S. troops driving within only four miles of Cherbourg today heard the thunder of explosions from the port, and civilians struggling through the lines said the enemy had begun demolitions in the harbor.

Already the Americans are within the outer rim of Cherbourg fortress—prepared positions, where the enemy is expected to make a final bitter stand on order of the high command to fight to the last.

But, strangely enough, some positions were unmanned when our troops approached them.

Artillery began pounding the last east-west lateral road over which the Germans might move their troops and equipment to Cape Levy, east of Cherbourg, or to Cape de la Hague, jutting out on the west tip of the peninsula.

Our guns rolled to engage the Germans in and around Cherbourg itself.

The enemy's last chance for escape is by sea at night from Cherbourg fortress.

They must escape at night if at all, and in small craft. The Allied air forces rule the air by day, and the navies would be able to deal with any large-scale escape by sea.

The U.S. troops were receiving aid from French patriots. Many Frenchmen, some of them veterans of the last war, volunteered their services as scouts and guides—even as front line troops.

New Secret Weapon

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE (CP-Reuters)—Allied bombers smashed at the "Robot Coast" of France today and encountered another "secret weapon." It consisted of a square box-like missile fired into the air to burst and scatter long strips of silvery metallic substance possibly designed to foul propellers. Pilots said the new weapon was ineffective.

Victoria Mosquito Flier Bags Nazi

By ALLAN NICKLESON

WITH THE R.C.A.F. IN BRITAIN (CP)—A Canadian night-fighting Mosquito squadron, in the busiest period of its history, destroyed seven Nazi planes and damaged many others since the invasion began.

The squadron, led by Wing Cmdr J. W. (Wendy) Reid of Sydney, N.S., has been roaring over the Normandy beachhead from this field since D-Day on protective patrols.

The string of victories began when Sqdn. Ldr. R. S. Jephson of 1900 Argyle Road, Victoria, B.C., with FO. J. M. Roberts of Winnipeg, knocked down a JU88. Jephson received double congratulations when he returned to his base, for he learned his wife in England had given birth to a daughter.

EARLY POTTER'S WHEEL WAS TURNED BY USE OF HAND

Much of the soil on our earth is made up of clay. When clay soil is wet, it turns into slippery, sticky mud.

A certain amount of clay in the soil is good for crops, but the farmer does not want "pure clay." It would be too hard for planting when dry. It also would not let rain water run properly to the roots of plants.

Yet pure clay is found in some places, and many other places have clay which is almost pure. Such clay is of real value. It can be used in the making of pottery.

Clay dishes and jars were made during the Late Stone Age in Europe and elsewhere. The sticky soil was taken from the earth and moulded into shape with the hands. Then it was allowed to dry in the sun.

A LUMP OF SOFT CLAY IS PLACED ON A REVOLVING STAND.

A POTTER'S WHEEL FITTED WITH A FOOT-TREADLE.

Clay jars were used for storing things. If they were baked in the sun, not in an oven, they were hardly fit for holding water—because they would leak. They could, however, be used for storing nuts and grain.

The first pottery was crude, but it marked a step in the right direction. With passing time, men learned to bake clay jars in ovens. When the ovens were hot enough, they gave the clay the power to hold liquids without leaking.

Some early pottery makers used basketwork to provide models for their clay jars. They wove dry grass, or other material, into the shapes they wanted, then covered the models with clay. Later the basketwork was burned out, and the clay jars were left.

An important event was the invention of the "potter's wheel." No record tells who invented it, but we know it was used in ancient Egypt and Babylonia. An Egyptian artist left us a picture of potters at work, one of them using a wheel.

The early potter's wheel was a round object which turned on a pivot a short distance above the ground. It was like a little round table with a top which could be spun around. As he turned the wheel with one hand, the potter used his other hand to shape the moist clay.

Sometimes an ancient potter's wheel was turned by one person while another worked on shaping the clay. In modern times, many potter's wheels are turned by foot treadles, and others by power machines.
